Funds Voted For Schools In 2 Areas

Beaver

The Beaver Local School District will proceed as quickly as possible with plans for building additions and other improvements, Supt. Roy Cashdollar commented today after voters approved a $485,000 bond issue by an 87-vote margin in a special election Tuesday.

Passed in its third test at the polls, the issue received the following vote, according to complete but unofficial returns compiled by the County Election Board:

For the Issue	790
Against Issue	703

A 2-mill levy will provide funds to amortize the bond issue, which will be used to build 13 new classrooms and other facilities.

The program calls for eight classrooms at the high school, along with an enlarged cafeteria, an auditorium - study center and additions to the athletic facilities.

FOUR NEW classrooms will be added to the Public School, along with dressing rooms for the physical education plant and heating system improvements. A new classroom will be erected at West Point and two new restrooms will be built at the Calcutta School.

Essentially the same issue was defeated at the polls twice in less than a year. It was turned down by a 103-vote margin

Hancock

★ ★ ★

Hancock County voters, in a special election Tuesday, gave overwhelming approval to the renewal of a five-year school operating levy. The vote was:

For	3,498
Against	1,167

The levy, which will yield some $7,904,910 over the five-year period, will be a continuation of that which will expire at the end of June 1969.

The issue received a 74.98 per cent margin, well over the 60 per cent required. Yesterday's turnout of 5,665 represented 21 per cent of the registered voters.

The levy was approved by more than 60 per cent in every precinct except Precinct 24 in Butler District, where the margin was 54.17. It was approved 210 to 30, 87.5 per cent, at Precinct 36 — Liberty School, Weirton — the greatest margin of any precinct.

Grant District residents approved the levy by 71.39 per cent, Clay residents by 75.5 and Butler residents by 76.08.

Funds from the levy will provide about 22 per cent of the total operating budget of the school system.

Dr. Vernon Wyland, serving his first term as superintendent of Hancock County schools, today expressed the thanks of the school administration, the board and the teachers for the wide margin by which the levy was approved.

LBJ Warns Moscow On 'War Dogs'

Says Only Way To Peace In Europe Is By Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, urging Moscow for the second time in two weeks not to "unleash the dogs of war," says the only way to peace in Europe is through no-holds-barred negotiations.

While urging the Soviet Union to accept earlier proposals for high-level talks on arms and troop reductions in Europe, Johnson warned that the United States never will tolerate the use or threat of force in areas of "common responsibility like Berlin."

"The use of force generates fears and passions whose consequences no man can predict or control," the chief executive told a session of the B'nai B'rith national convention Tuesday night.

"As I said the other day in San Antonio, 'Let no one unleash the dogs of war.' Europe has suffered enough in this century," he added.

Johnson's San Antonio speech Aug. 30 was the strongest he has aimed at Moscow in months and seemed to represent part of a carefully orchestrated U.S. response to the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia 10 days earlier.

The public part of that response has included cancellation of some features of the cultural exchange program with Russia, orders that work proceed on missile development and defense to improve any U.S. negotiating position, and some Johnson comments at a news conference that the United States remains "very concerned" over Soviet actions in Eastern Europe.

The B'nai B'rith speech, his second of the day to dwell on foreign policy and the quest for peace, appeared to be more of the same rather than being prompted by any fresh Soviet actions.

But, Johnson told his enthusiastic audience, the Czech invasion has given rise to "new military and political risks ... which demand even closer cooperation among Western allies."

Referring to earlier U.S. proposals for talks with Russia, Johnson said "in the discussion we have proposed for the reduction of tensions in Europe no topic would be barred. These proposals represent the only sound approach to the problem of peace and security in Europe."

Johnson drew applause 28 times in the speech that covered unrest in East Europe and tension is the Mideast. Some of the response was mild, but much of it included cheers, whistles and the clanking of silverware on glasses.

Reds' Guns Shell Dozen Allied Sites

American Officers See No Immediate Attack On Capital

SAIGON (AP) — Fighting raged northwest of Saigon today as the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese drove deep into the city of Tay Ninh, and American forces killed 95 enemy troops in repelling a night attack on a unit of the 25th Infantry Division.

Farther northwest along the Cambodian border, North Vietnamese gunners shelled a dozen allied camps, but casualties and damage were reported light. U.S. intelligence officers foresaw no immediate attack on Saigon.

Moving under cover of a heavy mortar attack, enemy infantrymen charged the 25th Division camp 14 miles southeast of Tay Ninh. They were driven off after nearly three hours by a massive barrage from armored personnel carriers, helicopter gunships and artillery. Six Americans were reported killed and 22 wounded.

Meanwhile, South Vietnamese paratroopers and militiamen skirmished with hundreds of enemy soldiers who invaded Tay Ninh, a key provincial capital 45 miles northwest of Saigon.

AP correspondent John T. Wheeler reported from the U.S. combat center in Tay Ninh that a Communist defector told interrogators there were three regiments—about 7,000—in and around the city.

Wheeler reported some firefights during the afternoon, but the big battle for the city of 200,000 evidently had not yet started. Enemy troops frequently pulled back when South Vietnamese paratroopers moved in.

Crash Of French Plane Claims 95

NICE, France (AP) — An Air France Caravelle jet liner crashed into the Mediterranean Sea today killing all 95 persons aboard, including Gen. Rene Cogny, who commanded French trops in North Vietnam at the time Dien Bien Phu fell, the airline said.

The plane, just recently put into service, was on a flight from Ajaccio, Corsica, to Nice, on the Riviera. Shortly before the crash, the pilot messaged: "Fire aboard!"

The wreckage of the plane was located 12 miles off the Riviera coast.

The pilot of the plane, which was aproaching Nice for a landing at its seaside airport, shouted one last message into his radio: "There is still fire aboard. We..." and his voice broke off.

Several residents of the Riviera reported seeing a huge black column of smoke rising from the sea off Cap d'Antibes. Others reported a ball of fire shortly before the twin-jet plane disappeared. Fisherman Marius Guis said he heard an explosion.

A search by sea and air was begun in rainy weather. One plane signalled that there appeared to be lifeboats around the wreckage, but this was not confirmed. The first three bodies brought to the mainland by helicopters were badly burned.

Hopes For Quick Release Fading

U.S. Says Red Korea Seeks More Than Apologies To Free Pueblo

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hopes for quick release of the USS Pueblo, feeding on widespread rumors for a week, have been shattered by U.S. statements that North Korea is seeking more than just American apologies.

"It is my understanding," said Secretary of State Dean Rusk Tuesday, "they have asked for a good many things including commitments about further action that would involve the high seas in the Sea of Japan."

Rusk commented on leaving a closed session of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. At about the same time the State Department was releasing a carefully worded statement on the U.S. position.

Both the Rusk comments and the statement came after a week of rumors here and in Asia that North Korea might release the captured U.S. intelligence ship and its 82 crewmen in connection with North Korea's celebration of its 20th anniversary as a Communist state.

North Korea has demanded three actions from the United States is return for the ship and its crew, seized Jan. 23.

These have been an admission the vessel violated North Korea's 12-mile territorial limit, an apology and a promise there would be no violations in the future.

Rusk told the House committee that there is no independent evidence whatsoever that the Pueblo violated its sailing orders which directed it to remain outside North Korea's territorial claims.

North Korea has claimed the Pueblo was within seven miles of its coastline when seized by a gunboat.

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford, also testifying behind closed doors on Capitol Hill, told newsmen he had nothing to indicate that the Pueblo release is imminent.

Negotiations between the United States and North Korea have been going on sporadically at Panmunjom.

A State Department spokesman said, "We have an obligation to keep the negotiations private" if they are to prove successful.

Legislature Convenes In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — A special session of the West Virginia Legislature got underway today with 14 items on the agenda —including a last minute supplemental item.

The supplemental item, added to his call to the legislature by Gov. Hulett C. Smith Tuesday night, would provide for the creation of a special committee to investigate state purchasing practices.

The committee would be given subpoena powers under terms of the proposal.

Other items included in the call include proposed changes in state welfare law to enable West Virginia to participate in the new federal Work Incentive Program, an increase in the mortgage plan interest rate from 6 to 8 per cent, a housing development program, truth in lending legislation and a plan to help the state acquire the West Virginia Turnpike for inclusion into the interstate highway system.

Senate President Howard W. Carson, D-Fayette, said the session should be through in a week ". . .with good luck."

Unless another special session is called before Dec. 1, the session which began today will be the final session for both Carson and House Speaker H. Laban White, D-Harrison.

It also will be Gov. Smith's last opportunity to address the 58th Legislature. A joint meeting of the Senate and House was scheduled to hear Smith's address.

Humphrey Makes Harsh Assault

Nixon Claims Democrats Muffed Chance For Peace

By The Associated Press

Richard M. Nixon says the Democrats "had their chance to end the war and they muffed it" and his running mate, Spiro T. Agnew, says Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey is turning "squishy soft" on the Vietnam issue.

Humphrey, in the harshest assault on his Republican presidential opponent yet, questioned meanwhile Tuesday how Nixon would react under the strain of the presidency.

"Will the new coating wear off and the old substance come through?" Humphry said in Los Angeles. "Or will the thin veneer of the most recent political cosmetic treatment remain?"

Humphrey did not name Nixon but made it clear he was referring to his opponent.

Nixon made his comment on the Democrats' Vietnam record when he noticed some antiwar placards in White Plains, N. Y. It is "time to send in a new team," he said.

Republican vice presidential nominee Agnew said Humphrey seems to be "trying to cast himself in the role of Neville Chamberlain—peace at any price."

"Humphrey is getting pretty maleable on this (Vietnam) issue," Agnew told a Washington news conference. "He is trying to placate the forces in his party that want to disengage in Vietnam at any cost."

Humphrey's running mate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, said he would favor a North Vietnam bombing halt if there were "some indication" by North Vietnam negotiators in Paris that this would lead to substantive peace talks, and if U.S. troops would not be endangered.

"I thisk that stopping the bombing may be a valuable step toward peace," Muskie said in St. Louis, "and that we ought to be prepared to take it when it is sensible to do so."

Who third party candidate George C. Wallace will name as his running mate remained an open question meanwhile.

A source close to Wallace said the former Alabama governor has decided against naming onetime baseball commissioner and former Kentucky Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler. The source denied Chandler's civil rights record was involved.

Amid the candidates' crossfire and the question over Wallace's running mate, voters in nine states named their Republican and Democratic congressional and state candidates with Tuesday primaries. The highlights:

Grand Jury To Hear 33 More Witnesses

LISBON — The Columbiana County grand jury was "on schedule" when it reconvened at 9 this morning to examine 33 witnesses in seven cases.

Sworn in Tuesday, the 15 men and women studied seven cases yesterday. Twenty - one witnesses were examined.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis said the schedule calls for four cases Thursday, four Friday and eight Monday.

The weatherman has decided to play it cool.

Primary Vote–Zero

WORTHINGTON, Minn. (AP) — The primary election vote was zero Tuesday in Little Rock Township in southwest Minnesota.

A precinct worker, asked why election judges at the precinct did not vote, replied: "They said they didn't know who was running."

New York's Teachers OK Board Offer

NEW YORK (AP) — Public school teachers have voted overwhelmingly to accept a settlement in their two-day strike over job security issues and begin fall term classes for 1.1-million pupils today.

A final tally of the vote showed 5,515 in favor and 218 opposed to the agreemest worked out Tuesday between the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers and the Board of Education.

Union President Albert Shanker had predicted a favorable vote telling a cheering UFT delegate assembly, "We have won on every basic issue and shown that we are the strongest organization in this fight."

The precipitating factor in the crisis, which delayed the fall term opening for two days, was the refusal of a locally governed experimental school district in Brooklyn to reinstate 10 white teachers it had dismissed.

Underlying the specific dispute was the union's fear that teachers would not be given adequate job security in the new citywide decentralizatios plan which is to take effect shortly.

The settlement provided that the 10 teachers could return to their former schools in the predominantly Negro-Puerto Rican Ocean Hill-Brownsville district if they desired.

On the larger citywide issue, the union won a three-member arbitration board to which any school employe who is dismissed or disciplined by a local board may appeal.

Closed 20 Years

Dump Eyed For Student Parking At High School

By ROBERT POPP

A former city trash dump abutting Maine Blvd. may hold the answer to the problem of student parking at the new high school.

Closed for some 20 years, the former trash disposal site offers a comparatively smooth surface that could be utilized for autos with little more investment than the cost of cutting a heavy growth of weeds and a small amount of brush and spreading a few truckloads of slag.

The surface is comparatively smooth and hard - packed because the city covered the dump with earth and leveled the site before closing the dump operation.

The former dump abuts immediately alongside Maine Blvd for 100 or more feet, so there would be no problem of egress. The city apparently leased the tract for the period it was used.

—:—

THE DUMP was closed about 1949. It was used only for a few months while the incinerator furnace was out of operation because of a breakdown.

Several persons cited the former dump as a possible parking place. Police Chief A. J. Radeschi, queried about the site yesterday, said it probably would hold several hundred cars. Although it is not immediately adjacent to the high school, it is within a five-minute walk, he commented.

The traffic problem on McKinnon Ave. near Anderson Blvd. was eased Tuesday after police posted "no parking" signs on the south side of McKinnon Ave. between Anderson Blvd. and Jennings Ave. Some of the students shifted their autos to Maine Blvd. near the high school entrance.

—:—

"THE STUDENTS cooperated wonderfully," the chief said, after a survey of the area. "We have no more problems on McKinnon Ave."

The former dump lies on the east side of Maine Blvd. about midway between the high school and North Elementary School.

A smoke and stench nuisance was responsible in part for its closing. For many weeks after the dump had been closed and covered with compacted earth, a "garbage" smell hung in the air. And smoke drifted upward through little fissures in the earth.

Firemen were dispatched many times to pump water on the subterranean fire, which burned itself out eventually. The persistent fire far beneath the surface generated so much heat that it could be felt through the shoe soles of officials who went to inspect the nuisance.

Court To Hear Wallace Ohio Ballot Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The name of third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace will appear on the Ohio ballot—temporarily, at least.

The U.S. Supreme Court agreed Tuesday to hear the Wallace case, and at the same time ordered Ohio election officials to program voting machines and prepare ballots for the Nov. 5 election to include the former Alabama governor's name.

State officials acted immediately to comply with the high court order.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said his office was sending telegrams to all 88 county election boards advising them to order new absentee ballots listing the names of Wallace and Marvin Griffin as presidential and vice presidential candidates of the American Independent Party. Griffin is a former Georgia governor.

Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart ordered Wallace's name temporarily placed on the Ohio ballot to make sure his name appears there should the court rule in his favor.

Stewart said the court will hear the Wallace case Oct. 7, opening day of its new session. The Socialist Labor Party, which also fought for a position on the ballot was invited to participate.

THE DUMP was closed about 1949. It was used only for a few months while the incinerator furnace was out of operation because of a breakdown.

Several persons cited the former dump as a possible parking place. Police Chief A. J. Radeschi, queried about the site yesterday, said it probably would hold several hundred cars. Although it is not immediately adjacent to the high school, it is within a five-minute walk, he commented.

The traffic problem on McKinnon Ave. near Anderson Blvd. was eased Tuesday after police posted "no parking" signs on the south side of McKinnon Ave. between Anderson Blvd. and Jennings Ave. Some of the students shifted their autos to Maine Blvd. near the high school entrance.

—:—

"THE STUDENTS cooperated wonderfully," the chief said, after a survey of the area. "We have no more problems on McKinnon Ave."

The former dump lies on the east side of Maine Blvd. about midway between the high school and North Elementary School.

A smoke and stench nuisance was responsible in part for its closing. For many weeks after the dump had been closed and covered with compacted earth, a "garbage" smell hung in the air. And smoke drifted upward through little fissures in the earth.

Firemen were dispatched many times to pump water on the subterranean fire, which burned itself out eventually. The persistent fire far beneath the surface generated so much heat that it could be felt through the shoe soles of officials who went to inspect the nuisance.

Court To Hear Wallace Ohio Ballot Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The name of third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace will appear on the Ohio ballot—temporarily, at least.

The U.S. Supreme Court agreed Tuesday to hear the Wallace case, and at the same time ordered Ohio election officials to program voting machines and prepare ballots for the Nov. 5 election to include the former Alabama governor's name.

State officials acted immediately to comply with the high court order.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said his office was sending telegrams to all 88 county election boards advising them to order new absentee ballots listing the names of Wallace and Marvin Griffin as presidential and vice presidential candidates of the American Independent Party. Griffin is a former Georgia governor.

Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart ordered Wallace's name temporarily placed on the Ohio ballot to make sure his name appears there should the court rule in his favor.

Stewart said the court will hear the Wallace case Oct. 7, opening day of its new session. The Socialist Labor Party, which also fought for a position on the ballot was invited to participate.

Legislature Convenes In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — A special session of the West Virginia Legislature got underway today with 14 items on the agenda —including a last minute supplemental item.

The supplemental item, added to his call to the legislature by Gov. Hulett C. Smith Tuesday night, would provide for the creation of a special committee to investigate state purchasing practices.

The committee would be given subpoena powers under terms of the proposal.

Other items included in the call include proposed changes in state welfare law to enable West Virginia to participate in the new federal Work Incentive Program, an increase in the mortgage plan interest rate from 6 to 8 per cent, a housing development program, truth in lending legislation and a plan to help the state acquire the West Virginia Turnpike for inclusion into the interstate highway system.

Senate President Howard W. Carson, D-Fayette, said the session should be through in a week ". . .with good luck."

Unless another special session is called before Dec. 1, the session which began today will be the final session for both Carson and House Speaker H. Laban White, D-Harrison.

It also will be Gov. Smith's last opportunity to address the 58th Legislature. A joint meeting of the Senate and House was scheduled to hear Smith's address.

Wallace Will Carry Ohio, Drive Aide Says

CINCINNATI (AP) — A campaign coordinator, paving the way for the visit of presidestial hopeful George Wallace, says the former Alabama governor will carry Ohio—regardless of the bailot situation.

Tom Turnipseed said Tuesday Wallace would win in Ohio if he is permitted to be but a write-in candidate.

6 Pass Exam For Job Lists

All six applicants received passing grades in an examination which the Municipal Civil Service Commission held Tuesday night at City Hall to draw up a new eligibility list for appointment of school custodians.

The commission now has an eligibility list of nine names, as those who passed the test last night were interpolated into a previous list, as state law provides. Previously, three names were on the eligibility list. In the interpotlation procedure, the names of all the successful applicants are placed in one list, based upon their relative test scores.

The list as it stands now, with the applicants ranking according to their grades:

Richard Eugene Higgins of 835 Laura Ave., Joseph Junior Hampson of 171 Maine Blvd., George Clifford Chaffee of 418 Maplewood Ave., Uril Shannon of Gladys Ave., MC 20, George Lemuel Haught of 236 W. 3rd St.

Christ Offerman of College St., Rose Glasure of Macrum St., Melvin G. Beagle of 1818 Idaho Ave. and Paul William Owen of 311 Persimmon Alley.

Hampson, Offerman and Mrs. Glasure has passed a previous test and their names were interpolated into the new list.

The commission said papers have been sent to every person on the eligibility list to take the physical examination which is required before their names can be certified to school authorities. When the papers are returned, all nine will be certified, as the commission has personnel requisitions for eight jobs.

In another examination conducted last night, Gerald Lee Grimm of S. Surry Rd. received a passing score for a place on the list for appointment of city truck drivers and equipment operators.

Another applicant did not pass. Only two filed for the exam.

Dangerous Invasion Fallout

Effects of the invasion outrage coldly carried out against Czechoslovakia by the Soviet Union are beginning to be felt in the United States.

A statement by Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford outlines a new push toward constrcetion of a $5 bilion antimissile umbrella comes on top of other examples of a freeze on U.S.-Soviet relations.

American officials are cool toward proposed arms control talks and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says it is entirely possible the Senate will not act on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty this year.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT has denounced as "indecent and outrageous" Soviet press reports that the Atlantic Alliance had planned to occupy Czechoslovakia before the Russians.

There is talk of beefing up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in rebuttal to Soviet troop deployment on the West German-Czeh border.

Plans for a second round of ceremonies marking the start of commercial air service between the U.S. and Russia have ben dropped.

Even the cultural exchange program has been affected. The State Department cancelled a University of Minnesota concert band tour in the Soviet Union.

Other steps undoubtedly will be forthcoming if Russia continues to act like a bull in an East Europe china shop.

The perfidious crime against Czechoslovakia has altered the course of the two superpowers tremendously. The hope for detente between America and Russia now seems so remote any time soon that it isn't even discussed.

AS UNREALISTIC and ridiculous as it may seem, the whole world has entered another of those eras when reason is replaced by insanity, diplomacy is replaced by dagger tactics and might has both the crown and the throne.

The oddity is that an overwhelming majority of the world population is dissatisfied with these conditions.

It is a natural law that to every action there is an equal and opposite reaction. The United States is now in the process of reacting to an action by a bully member of the international family.

The world naturally awaits the next move with some anxiety for man has moved slightly closer to the ultimate futility of self destruction.

Meeting School Needs

Beaver Local School District's obvious need for new classrooms persuaded voters to approve a $485,000 bond issue in Tuesday's election, and the economic necessity for renewing a school levy in Hancock County brought a similar ballot OK yesterday.

Voters are generally sympathetic to the financing of fundamental education programs for the youth of a community — there is no greater responsibility of a parent, a citizen, to insure adequate schooling for the next generation.

It is to be hoped that the passage of the two issues yesterday will be matched next Tuesday in East Liverpool School District when two proproposed levy renewals and a new 7-mill levy will be submitted to the electorate.

Judgment on merits of the three levies alone should warrant full approval, for these funds are related directly and unequivocally to the continuing operation of the school system and to broadening of the educational offering vital to the young people of East Liverpool today.

Letters To The Editor

Museum Stand Defended

I seek redress for a letter in the Aug. 28 issue, the main one sent to Levi Kimball of the Ohio Highway Department by Myron Weis in which he imputes the writer's motives concerning the saving of Wellsville's River Museum.

Mike and Leona Weis live next door to the River Museum in one of the finest homes in Wellsville. It, like others in the area, will presumably, be lost due to the new highway. The Weis' were the happiest people is Wellsville when the library board purchased and the Wellsville Historical Society cleaned up and restored the old Aten mansion, converting it into the present River Museum. At the time of the purchase three families were existing in the building, the basement of which looked like a coal mine. The bank sloping toward the Weis property was filled with cans and debris and had practically become a city dump.

Mike was, as I recall, appointed a trustee—15 years ago. He says he never attended a meeting, and in those 15 years many were held right next door. One of the meetings held in the old "coal mine" basement meeting rooms saw the formation of the Columbiana County Historical Association which sponsored the County Civil War Centennial (Morgan's Raid) and which has subsequently been the vehicle for receiving funds for the preservation and restoration of Gaston's Mill. Most trustees contributed many hours of time and labor to the River Museum.

"If there were something to save, I would not be writing this letter", Weis continues. The fact is there is much to save—all of which involves our American heritage. In the first instance there is the historic structure itself. This fine native stone mansion, built in 1811, predates the second American War for Independence. In its huge beamed rooms, its sturdy construction and commanding as it does a view of the beautiful curve of the Ohio as it sweeps past Yellow Creek, it embodies a large part of Americans that should not be destroyed. Students yet unborn when shown the stones and bones of history may envision the flesh and muscle that have made Americans.

The boat (not ship) models on display in the museum are the finest models in the nation. They were made by Ernest C. Smith of East Liverpool.

Capt. Thomas Jefferson Reynolds of the Showboat "Majestic" had contributed and members of his family have contributed memorabilia of an almost extinct chapter of river lore. The Carnegie Museum, certainly one of the nation's outstanding cultural institutions, has made several important and valuable loans to the Museum. The Army Corps of Engineers, Coast Guard, Ohio Bell Telephone and families of former rivermen have made important loans and grants. Also on display are many Wellsville and area items of importance to the local heritage. It might be some of these that the unseeing Mr. Weis thinks are of questionable value. He has never seen these for himself, as he says, so this must obviously be based upon the observation and advise if others — or maybe he was "cajoled" into such a red herring.

Weis notes that I "cajoled" the Library Board into buying the old Aten property." "Cajoled—to persuade by flattery or promises; wheedling, coaxing. I was indeed the salesman, but not the wheelder that the Weis letter indicates. In searching for a building for the River Museum I had tried to secure a property in the main part of the city, on the river. I felt it would be easier to sell a riverside site for the River Museum.

My search was difficult because some properties were not for sale, some were too high, many were not practical.

Mr. Edgar S. Davidson, then, and still, a member of the Carnegie Library Board, kept telling me about the Aten property. There was never a doubt about the value of the structure for museum and heritage purposes. If river properties were not available, a great contribution to the cry would be to purchase and preserve its oldest, most historic and most architectually valuable building. But I explained that it would not be easily available to townspeople or tourists and that it would be difficult to find and not as easy to operate as a mid-city property would. The great promise of the Aten property, I pointed out, lay in the future, when the new highway would pass in front of it in full view of thousands of tourists. If the museum could be kept going until the highway was built, then its success would be assured. This is what I presented to the Library Board. They then purchased the Aten property and the Historical Society went to work converting it into the River Museum.

Weis notes that when I became editor of the Wellsville Press that I dropped the Museum like a hot potato. Let us look at some of the "potatoes." The hottest one was one that Mr. Weis was associated with — the construction of the Wellsville Sewage Disposal Plant. He was president of Council, and along with a majority of that body, was sold or "cajoled" by the Chester Engineers on their costly plan. This would have cost far in excess of one million dollars. I did not feel that the city could afford such a plant and so said so; also coming out against the re-election of those who did. The relationship between Mr. Weis and myself has never been as cordial, as it once was, since the sewage plant fight.

Let it never be said that Ed Pugh "abdicated his interest" in the River Museum or in Wellsville. Some people still refer to me as "Wellsville" because of my Chamber of Commerce attitude. I am trying to abide by my original agreement. The highway can mean a newer, more successful life to the River Museum—it can "make it" after a struggle of 15 years. I will not retreat from this position.

If the museum is abandoned then let the record show that Myron Weis and the Carnegie Library Board, Mrs. Eunice Hustion, Mrs. Betty Bar, Mrs. Evelyn Culp Morrow, Edgar S. Davidson, George Schneidmiller, Dr. William McCutcheon and Tom Nelson have abandoned it—not the writer and his family.

My voice was the first one heard in favor of the new highway at the official hearing. My voice would never urge the abandonment of the Carnegie Library or the River Museum or our American Heritage. Let the Library Board secure its damages, and let the museum stand to reach its full potential for the community. Let us all work for a better community—a better tomorrow.

VICTOR RIESEL

Chicago Muscle Ordered

WASHINGTON — This tortured Democratic National Convention must not go into limbo until it is reported that among the thousands of delegates were friends, allies and counselors of the deadliest Cosa Nostra characters.

Victor Riesel

True, they were but a handful sprinkled through several delegations. But they pressured and voted, and had the freedom of the floor denied to us newsmen.

Therefore it must be concluded that someone in the security setup of the old Democratic National Committee, now dumped by "the Hump" as the jargon has it, thought thot intimates of ex-convict Johnny Dio, convict Jimmy Hoffa, and buddies of such criminals as the St. Louis area's Frank "Buster" Wortman, were far more trustworthy than the newsmen.

Mystery now is: who approved freedom for the friends and counselors of the hoods while tying down reporters and honored guests?

For example, at 8:06 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 28, the night of the presidential nomination, I wandered from the tight newspaper press tables into another part of the press section. A polite uniformed guard asked me to return to my seat.

I refused since there was no sane security reason for not walking up and down the press aisle. Quietly and politely, the guard said he had his orders.

"We're on especially strict security alert tonight," said the chap, "and it would help if you did sit down."

HE MADE NO MOVE. He did not push, shove or use his hands. All he would say was that he had his orders.

This was a repetition of what had happened on Tuesday. Then the "orders" were that no newspapers could be brought onto the convention floor. Those were "orders." From whom? Nobody knew.

I checked with Andy Frain, head of the Chicago-based ushers' agency retained to supply 500 men and women for the traffic control inside the amphitheater. Mr. Frain, who runs a union shop, pointed out that he uses mostly young people.

He reported that 150 of his men were at doors, which had to remain open because of fire regulations. Another 175 were on the floor. There were 125 girls, 75 usherettes and 50 hostesses. They were directed by 50 supervisors. All 500 were in uniform.

Mr. Frain said he was not in "security" at all.

"It wasn't until late Saturday (before the opening) that we learned from the Democratic National Committee that they would install those (credentials-checking) electronic machines. We stayed up until 5 a.m. to train our people and get out mimeographed instructions.

"AND DO REMEMBER that our people were in uniform — except for about 10 of us, the family and top management, who were in civilian clothes. None of us was deputized."

Who then were the muscle-happy plainclothesmen? Were they Chicago city police? Were they secret service operatives? Were they federal marshals? Were they just overgrown huskies, with no heads, just necks with hair grown over, retained to push us around? If so, they were not deputized.

They were told to keep their eyes on the New York and California delegations. They were told to watch for hand grenades. They were told to be particularly tough on newsmen. Who told them?

Did the orders come from the convention management? Or from some government agency?

Which now brings us to the official 126-page listing of convention delegates and alternates. I've spent days checking each name. Thousands of them are estimable ladies and gentlemen, governors, legislators, mayors and just plain political folk.

BUT ALSO ON THAT convention floor were such men as the St. Louis' Pipefitters local 162 assistant business manager, John "Doc" Lawler. He is the front for ex-convict Lawrence Callanan, boss of that local. Both now are under federal indictment for conspiring to violate the Corrupt Practices Act. Both know "Buster" Wortman.

There were Teamsters officials on that floor. Some have wined, dined and run with such men as the New York Mafia chief, Johnny Dio, and Chicago's Joey Glimco, who has been charged by Senate racket-busting witnesses with being one of 19 men influencing Chicago's criminal syndicate. Glimco is a Teamsters official.

On that convention floor were such congressmen as Jimmy Hoffa's friend, Missouri Senator Edward Long and New Jersey Representative Cornelius Gallagher. Both have been charged with suspect relationships by the press for some time now.

Yet all these men were cleared for freedom on the floor. But we newsmen and our newspapers were banned. Why? Are we second-class citizens?

Strange Silence

Neither the United States government nor any of the presidential candiates are making a positive declaration about the events of the last month in Czechoslovakia. Yet this act of aggression constitutes one of the biggest threats to world peace that has arisen since World War II.

For, despite the sacrifices made by the Western powers in coming to the rescue of Eastern Europe in 1939, the Moscow government has asserted itself as the imperialist master today, not only of Czechoslovakia but of Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Poland, East Germany, Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania.

Military strength has been brazenly employed by Russia to tell these small countries that they must obey their conqueror, and that their peoples must submit to censorship of their press and a squelching of their aspirations for liberty and domestic reform.

THE WHOLE WORLD is confronted with the fact that, notwithstanding the treaties and agreements which ended World War II, the Soviet Union took over control of these countries.

It seems to be forgotten in Moscow that the territory of the Soviet Union was attacked by Hiler, and that the United States joined with other nations in sending troops to Central Europe to save a country whose government under Stalin first joined Hitler.

The sacrifices in World War II seem wasted today. The United Nations, which was formed to preserve peace or at least to emphasize the rule of law, is inactive and appears helpless.

The free nations have not yet awakened to the big threat to world peace. The United States has curtailed its "cultural-exchange program" with the Soviets, but the American government has not spoken out about the violations of World War II agreements.

Did the Soviets in their invasion of Czechoslovakia take for granted that the United States was militarily paralized by the Vietnam War? Was the impression conveyed by the so-called "anti-Vietnam War" sentiment in this country that the government in Washington was out of step with public opinion?

This must have seemed an opportune moment for Communist imperialism to assert itself.

So far as Western Europe is concerned, there is uneasiness now that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization has been allowed virtually to crumble.

Presdent De Gaulle of France — who not only pulled out of the Western defense system but asked NATO to remove its troops and headquarters from French territory — may presently see the tragic mistake which he has made. There can be little comfort for him in the fact that the French Communist party has publicly disagreed with the invervention by the Soviet Union in Czechoslovakia's internal affairs.

The challenge today is to the free nations, including France, to join together in a dramatic manifestation of support for the preservation of the agreements which ended World War II and an adherence to the provisions of the U.N. charter which have been so flagrantly ignored.

Unless the United States calls a conference of all the Western governments in Europe, as well as other governments in Asia and Latin America, the inevitable result will be further steps of usurpation by the Soviet Union.

This doesn't mean that nuclear threats have to be employed or that conventional military power has to be used to rescue the small countries of Europe in whose capitals puppet governments have been established by Moscow. There is a much more powerful weapon available — an economic boycott by the free countries and direct appeals by radio to the peoples of the Soviet Union.

Evidences of restlessness against communism are noted not only inside Russia but in the countries in Eastern Europe which, since World War II, have been under the yoke of Soviet imperialism.

The Czechoslovakian crisis affords the most clear-cut example of armed aggression and interference in the internal affairs of a small nation which the world has witnessed since the Soviet invasion of Hungary in 1956.

IT WAS PRECISELY the same kind of indiference in the West to Hitler's acts of aggression in the 1930's which brought on World War II.

Certainly experienced officials in international affairs here and aborad will see the danger of another big war unless constructive steps of prevention now are taken by stating the case clearly to the peoples of the Soviet Union.

For they are becoming more and more involved in an imperialism of whose possible effects and consequences they are not fully aware.

Dangerous Invasion Fallout

Effects of the invasion outrage coldly carried out against Czechoslovakia by the Soviet Union are beginning to be felt in the United States.

A statement by Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford outlines a new push toward construction of a $5 bilion antimissile umbrella comes on top of other examples of a freeze on U.S.-Soviet relations.

American officials are cool toward proposed arms control talks and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says it is entirely possible the Senate will not act on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty this year.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT has denounced as "indecent and outrageous" Soviet press reports that the Atlantic Alliance had planned to occupy Czechoslovakia before the Russians.

There is talk of beefing up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in rebuttal to Soviet troop deployment on the West German-Czeh border.

Plans for a second round of ceremonies marking the start of commercial air service between the U.S. and Russia have ben dropped.

Even the cultural exchange program has been affected. The State Department cancelled a University of Minnesota concert band tour in the Soviet Union.

Other steps undoubtedly will be forthcoming if Russia continues to act like a bull in an East Europe china shop.

The perfidious crime against Czechoslovakia has altered the course of the two superpowers tremendously. The hope for detente between America and Russia now seems so remote any time soon that it isn't even discussed.

AS UNREALISTIC and ridiculous as it may seem, the whole world has entered another of those eras when reason is replaced by insanity, diplomacy is replaced by dagger tactics and might has both the crown and the throne.

The oddity is that an overwhelming majority of the world population is dissatisfied with these conditions.

It is a natural law that to every action there is an equal and opposite reaction. The United States is now in the process of reacting to an action by a bully member of the international family.

The world naturally awaits the next move with some anxiety for man has moved slightly closer to the ultimate futility of self destruction.

Meeting School Needs

Beaver Local School District's obvious need for new classrooms persuaded voters to approve a $485,000 bond issue in Tuesday's election, and the economic necessity for renewing a school levy in Hancock County brought a similar ballot OK yesterday.

Voters are generally sympathetic to the financing of fundamental education programs for the youth of a community — there is no greater responsibility of a parent, a citizen, to insure adequate schooling for the next generation.

It is to be hoped that the passage of the two issues yesterday will be matched next Tuesday in East Liverpool School District when two proproposed levy renewals and a new 7-mill levy will be submitted to the electorate.

Judgment on merits of the three levies alone should warrant full approval, for these funds are related directly and unequivocally to the continuing operation of the school system and to broadening of the educational offering vital to the young people of East Liverpool today.

Letters To The Editor

Museum Stand Defended

I seek redress for a letter in the Aug. 28 issue, the main one sent to Levi Kimball of the Ohio Highway Department by Myron Weis in which he imputes the writer's motives concerning the saving of Wellsville's River Museum.

Mike and Leona Weis live next door to the River Museum in one of the finest homes in Wellsville. It, like others in the area, will presumably, be lost due to the new highway. The Weis' were the happiest people is Wellsville when the library board purchased and the Wellsville Historical Society cleaned up and restored the old Aten mansion, converting it into the present River Museum. At the time of the purchase three families were existing in the building, the basement of which looked like a coal mine. The bank sloping toward the Weis property was filled with cans and debris and had practically become a city dump.

Mike was, as I recall, appointed a trustee—15 years ago. He says he never attended a meeting, and in those 15 years many were held right next door. One of the meetings held in the old "coal mine" basement meeting rooms saw the formation of the Columbiana County Historical Association which sponsored the County Civil War Centennial (Morgan's Raid) and which has subsequently been the vehicle for receiving funds for the preservation and restoration of Gaston's Mill. Most trustees contributed many hours of time and labor to the River Museum.

"If there were something to save, I would not be writing this letter", Weis continues. The fact is there is much to save—all of which involves our American heritage. In the first instance there is the historic structure itself. This fine native stone mansion, built in 1811, predates the second American War for Independence. In its huge beamed rooms, its expansive and intimate fireplaces, its sturdy construction and commanding as it does a view of the beautiful curve of the Ohio as it sweeps past Yellow Creek, it embodies a large part of Americans that should not be destroyed. Students yet unborn when shown the stones and bones of history may envision the flesh and muscle that have made Americans.

The boat (not ship) models on display in the museum are the finest models in the nation. They were made by Ernest C. Smith of East Liverpool.

at the May primaries. At the general election in November 1967, it lost by a margin of 470.

Supt. Cashdollar was at the Election Board's office as the results were tabulated. Obviously pleased and gratified, he issued a general "thank-you" to all who worked for the program.

He said the board of education now has a mandate to proceed as quickly as possible with the program it proposed for improvement of the school facilities.

Returns from the 18 precinct polling places were telephoned to the Election Board's office as quickly as they were tabulated.

The first figures were received at 6:33 — three minutes after the polls closed — from the Glasgow Precinct of Madison Township. The last report, at 7:15, was received from Signal in Elkrun Township.

THE DISTRICT recorded a comparatively light turnout. The total vote yesterday was 1,494, compared with 1,990 when the issue was turned down in November 1967.

The cumulative totals were put together last night by the board's regular three - member staff — Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, Mrs. Hillis Conner, deputy director, and Mrs. Mary Alice Cupp, clerk. Only a few spectators were in the office as the returns came in.

The issue was rejected in 10 precincts and favored in the other eight. But the margin of favorable votes was high in two St. Clair Township polling places, giving the bond issue the bare majority it required.

For instance, St. Clair Township's Sprucevale Precinct cast 132 in favor and 56 against, a margin of 76. And the East Precinct showed 121 in favor and 78 against, a favorable margin of 43.

Here's a precinct breakdown, by townships, of the votes for and against the bond issue:

Elkrun Township: Elkton Precinct, 40 in favor and 46 against; Signal, 38 and 48, and Southwest, 4 and 0.

Madison: Glasgow, 18 and 29; Rock Camp, 64 and 52, and West Point, 42 and 75.

Middleton: Clarkson, 32 and 26; Negley, 7 and 10; Pancake's, 28 and 33, and Rogers, 31 and 56.

went to work Tuesday with a heavy grader to help improve conditions on Maine Blvd. for both pedestrians and motorists. A little-used street for many years, Maine Blvd. suddenly became a veritable thoroughfare Monday with the opening of the new schools.

The west side of the road was widened approximately 10 to 12 feet for most of its length from a point near the Trinity United Presbyterian Church to the point where it intersects the "exit" driveway from the elementary school. Street Supt. John Cornell said he was striving to achieve a minimum width of at least 20 feet for the entire length of the stretch.

He said he also plans to widen Maine Blvd. from the elementary school "exit" driveway south to the junction of Vine St. and Ambrose Ave. — a stretch that is mostly a steep grade. If the city has funds available, slag will be spread on the newly-widened segment.

Blair Calls For Support Of 3 School Fund Issues

Speaking before the Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the Travelers Hotel, Supt. Paul Blair urged support for the fund issues which will face voters of the East Liverpool School District in a special election Tuesday.

At stake will be the renewal of 11 mills for operating expenses and 1 mill for repair and maintenance and an additional 7 mills for new operating expesses.

Supt. Blair centered his appeal for approval "to provide an adequate and better than minimum education" for the students of the school system.

Pointing to the vast educational complex which went into operation with the opening of the term here Monday, the superintendent commented: "We are involved in one of the greatest things that has ever happened to this city. The progress made is of such magnitude that we have not fully realized its impact, although we still have further to go.

"Our schools must serve all children of all people. Twenty years ago this was written in theory, but ignored in practice. Today we must practice it.

"Emphasis must be placed on pre - school educational programs. Children learn while they are young. We must have our kintergarten in 1969.

"We have the students only six hours a day, five days a week, 180 days of the year. We must provide a good program while we have them."

"We have the finest schools in the state and we must have a good academic program. We must meet new state standards and reinforce our vocational program for high school students, perhaps include junior high.

"We must go beyond minimum state standards so that they will not be a threat to our schools."

City's Schools Schedule Some Cafeteria Service

Scheduling of some cafeteria service in East Liverpool schools and shipment of more furniture has put the school system nearer full operation, administrators said today.

Supt. Paul Blair reported furniture for the high school library has been shipped, and furniture for the commercial department is to be shipped Tuesday, according to the firms.

He added that the cafeterias at North Elementary School and LaCroft Elementary School will be opened sometime next week.

Supt. Blair said a telephone call had been received from Classic Furniture Co. that the library furniture had been shipped from North Carolina Monday and should arrive this week.

He said everything possible will be done to have it installed before open house Sunday. Tonight, he said, the furniture in the study areas of the library will be assembled and put in place.

A definite shipping date for the commercial tables has been set for next Tuesday.

Mrs. Jaurine Lee, cafeteria co - ordinator, said this morning plans are set for opening the North and LaCroft Elementary cafeterias one day next week, although exactly when has not yet been determined.

East Elementary cafeteria, which will also serve East Junior High, cannot be opened until electricity is available at the building. The high school is still without tables in the cafeteria.

One - way signs have been erected at the Maine Blvd. complex.

Supt. Blair said a congestion problem developed Tuesday afternoon when parents pulled into the drive to pick up students and blocked the driveway so buses could not pull in and load. Students were approximately 15 minutes late leaving for home, he added.

Supt. Blair has asked drivers of cars to use the left side of the drive, so the buses can stay to the right and load on schedule.

Assistant Superintendent Carl Pelini reported the district's enrollment had increased more than 100 students on the second day. Enrollment is now at 5,546.

The metal nickel was so named by the miners of Saxony in 1654, when they were unable to smelt copper ores that — ununknown to them — contained nickel. They thought the devil had cursed their ore, so they called the metal "kupfernickel," or "Old Nick's copper."

Senate Group 'Anxious' To Act On Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee may finally be moving toward breaking the log jam on President Johnson's selection of Abe Fortas to be chief justice of the United States.

Members, both supporters and opponents of elevating Fortas from associate justice to succeed retiring Earl Warren, are reported anxious to settle the matter.

But still to be decided is whether the committee, which meets today, should reopen testimony on the appointment. Related to that decision is whether Fortas will agree to an invitation to reappear for questioning

If the hearings are reopened for testimony, the members were discussing limiting them to a couple of days and then voting on whether to recommend to the Senate that Fortas be confirmed.

After a day of wrangling Monday, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said "the feeling did develop that the committee should act within a fixed time."

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who moved to reopen the hearings and invite Fortas to testify again, said that "nobody is trying to prevent a vote as far as I know."

Other members of the committee, in which the controversial nomination has been stalled for over two months, also reported a disposition to act without extended delay.

Labor Group Plans Dinner

The Trades and Labor Council has scheduled its annual banquet Saturday, Oct. 19, at 6:30 p. m. at St. Aloysius School Hall.

Miles C. Stanley of Charleston, president of the West Virginia Federation of Labor and an assistant to George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, will be the principal speaker.

James B. Moss is banquet chairman. A chicken dinner will be served and tickets will be available to the public, according to Joseph A. Winters, secretary.

Moss and Winters said further details on the program will be announced later. The annual event usually attracts 250, including visiting labor officials from neighboring states.

Drivers Forfeit On Police Cases

Two out-of-state motorists cited Tuesday night by police forfeited $32.50 appearance bonds today in Municipal Court.

William O. West of Cynthiana, Ky., was cited at 7:08 on E. 6th St. by Patrolman Charles Coen on a charge of accelerating his car rapidly and causing the tires to "peel" on the pavement.

Larry E. Lattin of Coudersport, Pa., was arrested at 11:04 on Jackson St. for violation of an ordinance that forbids "loud, cracking noises" from an auto's exhaust system.

A 17 - century caddie in Scotland was hanged for stealing a golf ball.

Car Rammed In Hit-Run Strikes Home

A parked auto rammed in a hit - skip collision early today in Klondyke coasted backward and struck a nearby home.

Russell E. Reynolds, 25, of Negley RD 1 was taken into custody on a hit-and-run charge four minutes after the collision on Harvey Ave. east of Myrtle St. that damaged a parked 1965 sedan owned by Donna J. Barrett of 1911 Harvey Ave. and the corner of a home owned by Mrs. Alice Palmer of 1919 Harvey Ave., police said.

Reynolds, pursued and arrested by Patrolman David Huffman, was charged with driving left of center and leaving the scene of an accident.

Police first heard of the mishap at 5:17 a. m. in a call from Mrs. Palmer. She reported the offending car had turned onto Putnam St. and then onto Michigan Ave. She gave police a description of the auto.

Huffman spotted the car and gave pursuit. He said he stopped Reynolds just as the Negley man was preparing to pull his damaged auto into a garage on Michigan Ave. The arrest was timed at 5:21.

The crash caused heavy damage to both the front and rear of the Barrett auto and the left front of Reynolds' auto, police said. There also was damage to a sunporch on the eastern corner of Mrs. Palmer's home.

Meanwhile, Clara Schook of 1715 Pennsylvania Ave. told police the left rear of her 1955 model auto was damaged by a hit-skip vehicle Tuesday morning while parked on Pennsylvania Ave.

Plans Eyed By Chamber On Brochure

Plans for a proposed color brochure on community facilities were aired at a dinner meeting of the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce board of trustees and committee chairmen Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

The board recommended the business relations committee study the feasibility of producing such a brochure next summer.

The annual fall membership meeting of the Chamber was scheduled for Nov. 14 or 15, depending upon final arrangements.

Reports were heard from chairmen of committees on safety, civic affairs, highways, transportation and education, from the North Hancock County Development Organization and the Merchants Association.

George Shaw, president, reported on the progress of the program for total community development and the Mayor's advisory committee.

The next meeting will be Oct. 8 at 4 p. m. at the Chamber office.

Board Will Name Voting Spots For Special Election

Responding to a rash of telephone queries received yesterday, the County Election Board said a list of the 43 precinct polling place locations will be announced in advance of the East Liverpol School District's special election next Tuesday on 19 mills in operating levies.

Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, said at least 25 queries were received yesterday from persons anxious to learn the locations of their polling places The special election affects 34 precincts in East Liverpool proper, six in Liverpool Township and three in St. Clair Township

Miss Resnick pointed out the board always has made it a practice to announce the full list of polling places 24 hours prior to an election. In that way, the list still is fresh in the minds of voters when they head for the polls the following day, she said.

Voters will need to be particularly careful to check the list for the special election, because nine of the city's polling places will be in new locations. Precincts which formerly voted in elementary schools — sites which are no longer available— will be in new locations. The changes will be emphasized particularly when the list is announced, Miss Resnick said.

NEW CUMBERLAND — Howard L. Powell, 24, of Wellsville was fined $10 and costs by Squire John D. Herron on a charge of driving left of center. Powell was cited by the Hancock County sheriff's office following an accident Friday night on Route 30.

Rx PRESCRIPTIONS DIFFER FROM OTHER MEDICINES.
They are prescribed by a physician and filled only by a professional pharmacist. Exact records must be kept by the dispenser. The physician specifies the particular product and the pharmacist is liable if it is not exactly as specified and potently fresh.
In rare cases the contents of a prescription can be secured without a written prescription. The physician directs us to dispense these with a prescription label and his directions. He has good reasons for this and we do not question them, but follow his specifications exactly. When a physician gives you a prescription he specifies the one exact medicine, in the exact dosage he believes will help you most.

The Army report says that Sgt. Pridemore initiated an ambush on the point element of a reinforced enemy platoon. Within a few seconds of contact, the enemy had encircled the small ambush and separated the main body from the security elements.

"Sgt. Pridemore completely exposed himself to the heavy volume of enemy automatic weapons fire to kill an enemy soldier who was attempting to flank the main ambush element. He killed two more of the enemy and regrouped the patrol. After insuring that his wounded were evacuated, he led a small force of four men back to the ambush site to search the area for enemy bodies, documents and weapons."

The sergeant was graduated from East Liverpool High School and has been in Vietnam for about a year.

News Of Area Residents In Armed Forces

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Pridemore of 900 St. George St. have received word that their son, Army Staff Sgt. Dallas R. Pridemore, has received the Silver Star award.

He is serving with the 5th Special Forces Group (airborne) in Vietnam. In the service for seven years, he expects to return to the U.S. in about six months.

He received the award for gallantry in action while engaged in military operations in Vietnam Jan. 11. The citation reads: "He distinguished himself by exceptionally valorous action as patrol leader of a special ambush patrol deep in War Zone C."

The Army report says that Sgt. Pridemore initiated an ambush on the point element of a reinforced enemy platoon. Within a few seconds of contact, the enemy had encircled the small ambush and separated the main body from the security elements.

"Sgt. Pridemore completely exposed himself to the heavy volume of enemy automatic weapons fire to kill an enemy soldier who was attempting to flank the main ambush element. He killed two more of the enemy and regrouped the patrol. After insuring that his wounded were evacuated, he led a small force of four men back to the ambush site to search the area for enemy bodies, documents and weapons."

SGT. PRIDEMORE

The sergeant was graduated from East Liverpool High School and has been in Vietnam for about a year.

Aiken All But Re-Elected

Elson Wins In Arizona, Set To Oppose Goldwater

By The Associated Press

Arizona Democrats have selected Barry Goldwater's Senate race opponent and veteran Republican Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont is all but re-elected after nine state primaries that heavily favored incumbents.

Goldwater's November opponent is Roy Elson, longtime aide to Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., who is retiring after 56 years in Congress.

Elson beat two Democratic rivals Tuesday; Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential nominee, was unopposed.

Aiken, dean of Senate Republicans and a Vietnam policy critic, won not only the GOP nomination in Vermont to succeed himself, but the Democratic nomination as well on write-in votes.

In Wisconsin, Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette of the politically famous family easily won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination to face incumbent GOP Gov. Warren P. Knowles in November.

The other primaries were in Colorado, Minnesota, Utah, Maryland, Rhode Island and New Hampshire.

Two former Wisconsin Democratic congressmen who were ousted by Republicans in 1966 won nominations for rematches. Lynn E. Stalbaum won a comeback try against incumbent Rep. Henry C. Schadeberg and John Race won one against incumbent Rep. William Steiger.

All 10 Wisconsin congressmen, and Sen. Gaylord Nelson who was unopposed won renominations.

In the Arizona gubernatorial race, former governor Sam Goddard won a three-way Democratic race and now faces incumbent Republican Gov. Jack R. Williams, who was unopposed.

In the Vermont gubernatorial race, Deane C. Davis won the Republican nomination to oppose Democratic Lt. Gov. John J. Daley.

Former Colorado Gov. Steve McNichols, in a political comeback, won the Democratic nomination to challenge incumbent Republican Sen. Peter R. Dominick, who was unopposed.

All eight Minnesota U.S. representatives came through their renomination bids unscathed. Only Reps. Donald M. Fraser and John A. Blatnik had primary opposition.

Utah Atty. Gen. Phil Hansen and state Development Director Milton Weilenmasn traded leads in a race undecided as vote counting continued today for the Democratic nomination to oppose incumbent GOP Sen. Wallace F. Bennett.

Is Maryland, Rep. Charles McC. Mathias breezed to the Republican nomination to oppose incumbent Democratic Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, also an easy winner.

The other seven of Maryland's U.S. representatives unofficially won renomination but Democratic Rep. George H. Fallon's victory was a photo-finish with a margin of less than 1,000 votes.

Rhode Island Democratic Rep. Fernand St. Germain won renomination and now faces Republican challenger Lincoln Almond, a town admisistrator.

In New Hampshire, incumbent Republican Sen. Norris Cotton crushed an opponent and now takes on Democratic Gov. John W. King. House Speaker Walter R. Peterson won the GOP gubernatorial nomination; the Democrats picked Emile R. Brassiere, a county attorney.

David C. Hoeh, involved in a row with police at the Democratic National Convention over use of a credential-checking machine, won a spot against incumbent GOP Rep. James Cleveland. Republican Rep. Louis C. Wymann also won renomination.

State's First 2-Party Primary

Negro Lawyer Challenges Talmadge In Georgia Bid

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A Negro attorney is challenging Democratic Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, heir to a political organization that dates back to the 1930s, in the state's first two-party primary today.

Talmadge supporters predict victory in his contest with Maynard Jackson, 30, but acknowledge that a light voter tournout —or even a heavy switchover to Republican ranks—could harm the senator's chances of winning a third consecutive term. The Democratic nominee will face Republican opposition.

The 55-year-old senator is a former governor who inherited a political machine fashioned by his father, the red-suspender-snapping Eugene Talmadge who won the governor's chair four times in the 1930s and 1940s.

His late father was an outspoken advocate of segregation, and when his son became governor two years after his death in 1946, he also became widely known as a proponent of white supremacy and a harsh critic of Supreme Court desegregation decisions.

Talmadge's stance on race has been softened in his speeches and comments during the dozen years in Washington and he appeared occasionally before Negro and integrated groups.

But Jackson's candidacy has revived the issue. As late as the eve of the election, Jackson, a political newcomer charged that an attempt was being made to draw racial lines in the contest.

His charge stemmed from a newspaper advertisement by Talmadge supporters telling voters it was "urgent" for them to vote in the primary to prevent "a minority candidate with a small but organized bloc of voters" from defeating the senator.

Jackson has criss-crossed the state, criticizing Talmadge's voting record in the Senate and repeatedly challenging the senator to debate him.

Talmadge has attempted to discount Jackson's challenge, declining debates and maintaining that he is not campaigning. However, his speeches were numerous and his advertising heavy.

The GOP Senate contest is between two Atlanta businessmen, Jack Sells and Earl Patton Jr.

Republicans have staged primaries in individual Georgia cities before, but this is the first time they have mustered enough interest to hold a statewide primary. In the past, Republicans qualified for the general election by filing petitions of voters with the secretary of state's office.

Abernathy To Lead Garbage Strikers In Atlanta Marches

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy says he will lead Atlanta's striking garbage men in major demonstrations despite a court injunction ordering the men back to work.

Abernathy, successor to the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said he may call for support from across the country for the 1,000 garbage men in their bid for a $2.50-per-hour minimum pay.

"We've got some good friends in this country. We don't have to march by ourselves," Abernathy declared, speaking at a meeting of more than 400 persons held at an Atlanta Negro Baptist church Tuesday night.

Abernathy and union leader Morton Shapiro, negotiator for the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes Union, were among the 80 persons arrested earlier in the day in demonstrations involving the strike. Abernathy and Shapiro were released later on bond.

"No injunction is going to collect garbage in the city of Atlanta," Shapiro said, adding, "we're going to violate the injunction that was handed to me." The injunction was issued Tuesday.

Abernathy called Atlanta a fine city "that has told us a lie all these years....This city that has paraded as the city too busy to hate but will not pay the men to collect garbage."

He said all the forces of SCLC will be committed to the garbage strike battle.

Jackson has criss-crossed the state, criticizing Talmadge's voting record in the Senate and repeatedly challenging the senator to debate him.

Talmadge has attempted to discount Jackson's challenge, declining debates and maintaining that he is not campaigning. However, his speeches were numerous and his advertising heavy.

The GOP Senate contest is between two Atlanta businessmen, Jack Sells and Earl Patton Jr.

Republicans have staged primaries in individual Georgia cities before, but this is the first time they have mustered enough interest to hold a statewide primary. In the past, Republicans qualified for the general election by filing petitions of voters with the secretary of state's office.

Abernathy To Lead Garbage Strikers In Atlanta Marches

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy says he will lead Atlanta's striking garbage men in major demonstrations despite a court injunction ordering the men back to work.

Abernathy, successor to the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said he may call for support from across the country for the 1,000 garbage men in their bid for a $2.50-per-hour minimum pay.

"We've got some good friends in this country. We don't have to march by ourselves," Abernathy declared, speaking at a meeting of more than 400 persons held at an Atlanta Negro Baptist church Tuesday night.

Abernathy and union leader Morton Shapiro, negotiator for the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes Union, were among the 80 persons arrested earlier in the day in demonstrations involving the strike. Abernathy and Shapiro were released later on bond.

"No injunction is going to collect garbage in the city of Atlanta," Shapiro said, adding, "we're going to violate the injunction that was handed to me." The injunction was issued Tuesday.

Abernathy called Atlanta a fine city "that has told us a lie all these years....This city that has paraded as the city too busy to hate but will not pay the men to collect garbage."

He said all the forces of SCLC will be committed to the garbage strike battle.

Adult Class Will Be Held In Reading And Writing

LISBON — The local school system will offer an evening class this year to teach adults how to read and write.

Harry Riser, priscipal of McKinley Elementary School, will supervise the free instruction for those 18 and over who have had less than an eighth-grade education.

The board of education appointed Riser Tuesday night. He was in Columbus yesterday for a conference on basic education for adults.

—:—

THE LOCAL board applied for a state grant for the course two months ago and will receive approximately $2,200 to finance it.

Since persons needing this instruction probably will not be reading this notice themselves, Supt. Joe W. Driscoll said persons knowing adults who cannot read or write should suggest they call the superintendent's office.

The class, 2½ hours twice a week, will be the only one in the county and will be open to all county residents up to a maximum of 20 students. Details are incomplete, but the classes are to begin by Oct. 1.

The board employed 10 persons last night:

Everett Lambert, junior high football, $350; Kaye Kessler, sophomore class adviser, $25; Keith Kampher and Ben Wells, substitute bus drivers, $8 a day; Joyce Adams, Sally Ashton, Cindy Chestnut, Raeanna Hobart and Carol Page, teachers' aides, five hours a day at $1.50 an hour, and Freda Clapsaddle, full-time cook at Lincoln School, $2,100. She has been a part-time cook.

Supt. Driscoll said the teachers' aides are to be paid through Title 1 funds.

—:—

THE BOARD approved the purchase of $531 worth of equipment from the Wilkens - Anderson Co. for semi-micro chemistry. The purchase will be under the Title 3 program, with the federal government paying half the cost.

The superintendent said the new 66 - passenger school bus will be delivered about Sept. 26.

He mentioned classroom TV programs offered by Channel 13, Pittsburgh, at a cost of $1 per pupil for the school using the service. The state of Ohio will pay 50 cents per pupil if the board accepts the program, Supt. Driscill said.

Channel 13 also offers in-service training for teachers. "This might be a way of meeting the state requirement of annual in-service training for faculty members," Supt. Driscoll added.

Dr. Wade A. Bacon, board president, said he favors setting up a pilot course to see if it is feasible to use educational TV on a broader scale.

Supt. Driscoll, Clerk Richard Bowling and several board members will meet with Miss D. Pauline Church, state examiner, Friday afternoon at Canfield.

The board authorized payment of expenses for appropriate personnel to attend two conferences — "Teaching Social Studies," Oct. 5 at Kent State University, and "Youth and Drugs — Use and Abuse," Oct. 13-14 at Columbus.

Supt. Driscoll and board members plan to attend a regional meeting on the Battelle research project Sept. 25 at Salem Senior High School.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 15, a week later than usual, in the administration building.

Gains Cited In Medicine

Medical progress in the last 30 years has been greater than in the previous 30 centuries, James Jones of Beaver Falls, a salesman for the Parke - Davis Drug Co., told Wellsville Kiwanians Tuesday noon when they met at Meade's Restaurant.

Davis said records indicate that 6,800,000 people living today would be dead if the death rate of 1930 had continued.

The drug industry spends $371 million a year on development and research for new products, Davis told the group. He said one out of every four employes of the drug company are in the field of development and research.

"Every year out of 10,000 compounds tested, they feel lucky if one is developed into a safe and effective drug. The pills that contain pellets that disintegrate at certain times, making them like a time capsule, took seven years and 35,000 man hours in development and research," he added.

Commenting on a bill in Congress that is attempting to tax the patent and brand name system on drugs, Davis claimed it would destroy incentive. "If the name had to be left off, and no credit was given those who develop the medicine, they would not strive to better it," he declared. He said Russia had used this system, found it didn't work, and now is trying to adopt our system..

Davis said the average cost of a prescription is $3.43 and that the average person purchases $15.50 in prescription drugs in a year. This average is based on national population, he said, and compared it with $45 for tobacco and $54 for alcohol.

The next meeting will be Tuesday at Meade's.

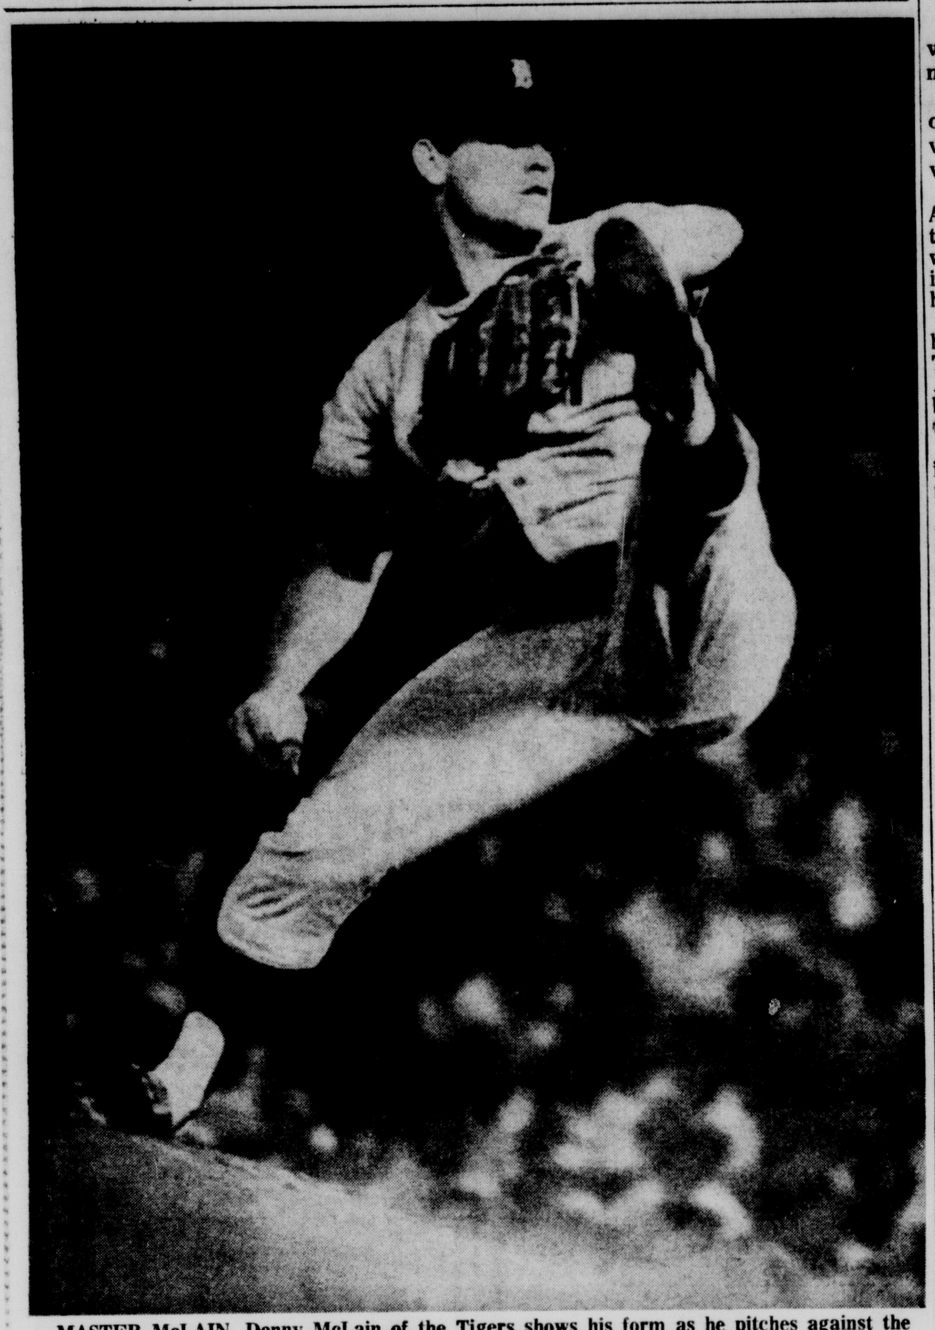
McLain Beats California 7-2 For 29th Win Of Season

The Review Sports

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1968 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 14



MASTER McLAIN. Denny McLain of the Tigers shows his form as he pitches against the Angels in Anaheim last night. McLain beat the Angels 7-2 for his 29th win of the season. (UPI Telephoto)

Tiger Hurler Gets Three Hits

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Denny McLain's 29th triumph in 1968 probably will be remembered as something less than a pitching masterpiece. But his stickwork never has been sharper.

The Detroit fireballer climbed within a single step of becoming baseball's first 30-game winner in 34 years when he hurled the American League leaders to a 7-2 victory over California Tuesday night.

McLain, 29-5, struck out 12 Angels. But he had to struggle to escape two tight jams and was tagged for nine hits in all, including a pair of sixth inning homers.

His performance with a bat in his hands was something else. The husky right-hander, batting .133 going into the game, banged out two singles and a triple in four trips to the plate.

His fourth inning single drove in two runs in a decisive four-run flurry.

"It's the first time I ever had three hits in a game," he said, "and I was all confused, running the bases."

While McLain boosted Detroit's league lead over Baltimore to 8½ games . . . with 15 to play . . . the New York Yankees continued their late surge with a 2-1, 5-0 doubleheader sweep over Chicago, Oakland trimmed Boston 5-3 and Cleveland beat Minnesota 6-2. Washington and Baltimore were rained out.

The Tigers staked McLain to a 6-0 lead before he faltered momentarily in the middle innings.

The Angels loaded the bases with one out in the fourth, but McLain got Tom Satriano on a pop up and fanned Bobby Knoop.

Ed Kirkpatrick, Vic Davalillo and Jay Johnstone stroked fifth inning singles but Detroit right fielder Jim Northrup nailed Kirkpatrick at the plate on the third hit.

The Angels finally broke the ice in the sixth when Rick Reichardt and Satriano slammed homers, but McLain finished strong as the Tigers' pennant clinching magic number dipped to nine.

Charlie Smith's first homer of the season, a two-out blast in the ninth, sent the Yankees past the White Sox in the opener. Right-hander Joe Verbanic tossed a five-hitter in the nightcap for his first major league shutout as the Yanks soared five games over .500.

New York has won five in a row and 24 of its last 34 starts to move from seventh place into contention for third.

The Athletics kept their first division hopes alive by cuffing Boston's Gary Bell for four runs in the first inning—two of them on Dick Green's double—and then staving off the Red Sox' late comeback.

Winner Lew Krausse allowed five hits until the ninth, when the Sox scored twice and drove him from the mound. Jack Aker protected the edge by getting the last two outs.

Tony Horton knocked in a pair of Cleveland runs with a homer and triple, then bounced into a triple play—the seventh in the majors this year—as the Indians topped the Twins behind Stan Williams.

Third baseman Rich Rollins started the triple killing by gloving Horton's tap with runners on first and second in the fifth. He stepped on third, forcing the front runner, and threw to second for another force. Rod Carew's relay to first baseman Bob Allison retired Horton, completing the bang-bang-bang play.

Three of the eight new head football coaches in the area made successful debuts last Friday night.

Two games involved new coaches for both teams. In these meetings, George Morris of Columbiana came out on top of Beaver Local's Dick Bryan and Ivan Dye of Midland bested Mike Hornick of Western Beaver.

Jerry Winstead, who actually had a couple of games under his belt as head coach at Southern Local, made a successful debut in his first full season as his Indians scalped the Lisbon Blue Devils of veteran mentor Bud Bucher 40-16.

Taking their lumps in their first times out were Alan Hoover of Oak Glen, Howard Gilger of Wellsville and Ernie Grekis of Crestview.

AREA PLAYERS on the Ohio State football team are junior linebacker Jim Gentile of Poland, senior letterman defensive end John Sobolewski of Steubenville, sophomore end Dick Kuhn and senior letterman linebacker Mark Steir of Louisville, sophomore guard Ted Kurz of Struthers, junior letterman halfback Dave Brungard of Youngstown and sophomore defensive back Tim Anderson of Follansbee

TWO FORMER Columbiana County quarterbacks are starters in the defensive backfield for Bowling Green. East Liverpool's Bob Maltarich is firmly established at the left halfback position and Columbiana's Rick Perrin will be at safety. Maltarich was named the most improved player on the squad after the spring game. The Faloon brochue calls him "the best deep back (on the team) as far as being able to stay with the receiver and play the ball . . . hard to fool, knows his job . . . supports well . . . last year intercepted three passes and returned them for nine yards."

Perrin was a starting halfback last season but has been switched to safety. "He should make Bowling Green much better at this position this year . . . great speed and good range . . . can use speed to cover a wider range . . . feels more at home at safety . . . very intelligent, will be calling the defensive backfield signals . . . intercepted one pass and returned it 56 yards for a touchdown last season" are the brochure comments on Perrin. He is a transfer from Harvard.

Xavier Over Miami

Tennessee, Nebraska Among AP Grid Picks

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The time has come for the everyday housewife to put her dreams away for another day . . . and start trying to hold the line against Saturday's heroes of the homescreen.

College Football 1968 is upon us, bearing promise of unprecedented weekend delights for armchair quarterbacks from Lafayette, Ind., to Los Angeles . . . and headaches for the little women.

Would you mind sharing those aspirin tablets with an itinerant pigskin picker, lady?

The opening kickoff is a week away for most major college teams. But a handful will be taking the plunge Saturday . . . along with this fumble-leery crystal ball-gazer.

The nationally-televised clash between Tennessee's Southeastern Conference champs and Georgia's toothy Bulldogs tops a six-game afternoon card. High-powered Houston entertains the Green Wave of Tulane in the Astrodome in one of 10 arclight openers.

We'll put our perfect 1968 record on the line with the following selections:

Saturday Afternoon

Tennessee over Georgia: This collision of Dixie dandies was moved up one week to accommodate the television fans . . . and it promises to be a typical SEC free-for-all.

The Vols graduated All-American center Bob Johnson, guard John Boynton and backfield stars Dewey Warren and Charley Fulton, so Coach Dave Dickey will rely heavily on his combative defensive troops. They should carry the day against the visiting Bulldogs, who have been barking unhappily about the synthetic turf Tennessee will unveil for the first time at Knoxville.

Nebraska over Wyoming: The Huskers are tall, starting with 6-foot-7 quarterback Frank Patrick, and tough (they led the nation in defense last year). The starting backfield on Wyoming's Sugar Bowl team is gone . . . and so is All-American kicking specialist Jerry DePoyster.

The Cowboys will win often anyway . . . but not at Lincoln.

Wake Forest over North Carolina State: Upset No. 1! N.C. State's Liberty Bowl champs return most of their starters. Wake Forest had to win its last four for a 4-6 finish and Coach Bill Tate modestly describes his team as "a bunch of boys who are fun to watch."

But the hunch here is that Fred Summers, Wake's slick quarterback, will give the white-shod Wolfpack defensive whales an eyeful of gloom . . . and a hotfoot . . . as the Deacons dedicate their brand new stadium with an Atlantic Coast Conference coup.

Iowa State over Buffalo: Last year's Big Eight have-nots are pirked to defend the conference honor against the upstarts from the East and give new Coach Johnny Majors a winning send-off. Willie Muldrew's excellence at middle guard should be the difference in a tight struggle.

Utah State over New Mexico State: Take the Aggies in this one and you can't miss; both teams answer to the same nickname. We'll hope for the home-standing Utahs to reverse last year's 10-9 setback behind John Pappas' passing and the tackle play of 255-pound Phil Olsen, little brother of Los Angeles Rams' star Merlin, and 260-pound junior college transfer Mick Workman.

Also, Western Michigan over Arkansas State.

Saturday Night

Houston over Tulane: Houston's Paul Gibson, who rambled for 1,100 yards to spark the nation's No. 1 offensive machine in 1967, has shifted from fullback to halfback and added ballet lessons to his training schedule. If he doesn't tiptoe through Tulane, it's a good bet that new fullback Carlos Bell, a 6-foot-5, 225-pound gift from the Cougars' great basketball team, will.

Colorado State University over New Mexico: Terry Stone, the nation's passingest quarterback, gave the Lobos a wing and a prayer . . but just one victory in 10 games last year. A rebuilt New Mexico defense might give CSU wingback Larry "Lemon Juice" Jackson a squeeze or two, but the Rams should prevail in their Western Athletic Conference debut at Albuquerque.

Xavier over Miami, Ohio: The Musketeers emerged as a Midwest independent force last year with a 6-3-1 finish and could be better this fall with 30 returning lettermen, including John Shinners, a heralded 250-pound offensive guard. Shinners' duel with Miami linebacker Bob Babich, another top pro prospect, should be a dilly.

Toledo over Richmond: The Rockets are primed for another fast takeoff on their home pad after winning nine of 10 for a share of the 1967 Mid-American Conference crown. Halfback Roland Moss, who scored 16 touchdowns, is back to lead the thrust.

Other picks: Dayton over Kent State; Texas-El Paso over California-Santa Barbara; West Texas State over Lamar Tech; East Carolina over Parsons; Morehead State over Marshall; Furman over Miss. College.

Rose Scored All Southern TDs

Rich Rose of Southern Local scored all six touchdowns for the Indians in their win over Lisbon Friday, not five as was reported in the Review.

Rose got one conversion, not two, for a school - record total of 38 points in the game.

McLain Beats California 7-2 For 29th Win Of Season

The Review Sports

Tiger Hurler Gets Three Hits

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Denny McLain's 29th triumph in 1968 probably will be remembered as something less than a pitching masterpiece. But his stickwork never has been sharper.

The Detroit fireballer climbed within a single step of becoming baseball's first 30-game winner in 34 years when he hurled the American League leaders to a 7-2 victory over California Tuesday night.

McLain, 29-5, struck out 12 Angels. But he had to struggle to escape two tight jams and was tagged for nine hits in all, including a pair of sixth inning homers.

His performance with a bat in his hands was something else. The husky right-hander, batting .133 going into the game, banged out two singles and a triple in four trips to the plate.

His fourth inning single drove in two runs in a decisive four-run flurry.

"It's the first time I ever had three hits in a game," he said, "and I was all confused, running the bases."

While McLain boosted Detroit's league lead over Baltimore to 8½ games . . . with 15 to play . . . the New York Yankees continued their late surge with a 2-1, 5-0 doubleheader sweep over Chicago, Oakland trimmed Boston 5-3 and Cleveland beat Minnesota 6-2. Washington and Baltimore were rained out.

The Tigers staked McLain to a 6-0 lead before he faltered momentarily in the middle innings.

The Angels loaded the bases with one out in the fourth, but McLain got Tom Satriano on a pop up and fanned Bobby Knoop.

Ed Kirkpatrick, Vic Davalillo and Jay Johnstone stroked fifth inning singles but Detroit right fielder Jim Northrup nailed Kirkpatrick at the plate on the third hit.

The Angels finally broke the ice in the sixth when Rick Reichardt and Satriano slammed homers, but McLain finished strong as the Tigers' pennant clinching magic number dipped to nine.

Charlie Smith's first homer of the season, a two-out blast in the ninth, sent the Yankees past the White Sox in the opener. Right-hander Joe Verbanic tossed a five-hitter in the night-cap for his first major league shutout as the Yanks soared five games over .500.

New York has won five in a row and 24 of its last 34 starts to move from seventh place into contention for third.

The Athletics kept their first division hopes alive by cuffing Boston's Gary Bell for four runs in the first inning—two of them on Dick Green's double—and then staving off the Red Sox' late comeback.

Winner Lew Krausse allowed five hits until the ninth, when the Sox scored twice and drove him from the mound. Jack Aker protected the edge by getting the last two outs.

Tony Horton knocked in a pair of Cleveland runs with a homer and triple, then bounced into a triple play—the seventh in the majors this year—as the Indians topped the Twins behind Stan Williams.

Third baseman Rich Rollins started the triple killing by gloving Horton's tap with runners on first and second in the fifth. He stepped on third, forcing the front runner, and threw to second for another force. Rod Carew's relay to first baseman Bob Allison retired Horton, completing the bang-bang-bang play.

70-Lb. Muskellunge New York Record

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The largest muskellunge ever taken in New York state weighed one ounce less than 70 pounds.

It was taken from the St. Lawrence river by Arthur Lawton in 1957.

5-8 Back Jumps

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Halfback Shelly Butrill is only 5-foot-8 but he jumps well.

The Denver, Colo., senior demonstrated his leaping ability for Navy last fall when he took a pass away from Army end Gary Steele who is 6-foot-5.

Black Bear Season

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The black bear is northern New York state will have to face hunters early this season. The conservation department has announced a special early bear season from Oct. 1 through 15 in nine Adirondack counties.

Three of the eight new head football coaches in the area made successful debuts last Friday night.

Two games involved new coaches for both teams. In these meetings, George Morris of Columbiana came out on top of Beaver Local's Dick Bryan and Ivan Dye of Midland bested Mike Hornick of Western Beaver.

Jerry Winstead, who actually had a couple of games under his belt as head coach at Southern Local, made a successful debut in his first full season as his Indians scalped the Lisbon Blue Devils of veteran mentor Bud Bucher 40-16.

Taking their lumps in their first times out were Alan Hoover of Oak Glen, Howard Gilger of Wellsville and Ernie Grekis of Crestview.

AREA PLAYERS on the Ohio State football team are junior linebacker Jim Gentile of Poland, senior letterman defensive end John Sobolewski of Steubenville, sophomore end Dick Kuhn and senior letterman linebacker Mark Steir of Louisville, sophomore guard Ted Kurz of Struthers, junior letterman halfback Dave Brungard of Youngstown and sophomore defensive back Tim Anderson of Follansbee

TWO FORMER Columbiana County quarterbacks are starters in the defensive backfield for Bowling Green. East Liverpool's Bob Maltarich is firmly established at the left halfback position and Columbiana's Rick Perrin will be at safety. Maltarich was named the most improved player on the squad after the spring game. The Faloon brochue calls him "the best deep back (on the team) as far as being able to stay with the receiver and play the ball . . . hard to fool, knows his job . . . supports well . . . last year intercepted three passes and returned them for nine yards."

Perrin was a starting halfback last season but has been switched to safety. "He should make Bowling Green much better at this position this year . . . great speed and good range . . . can use speed to cover a wider range . . . feels more at home at safety . . . very intelligent, will be calling the defensive backfield signals . . . intercepted one pass and returned it 56 yards for a touchdown last season" are the brochure comments on Perrin. He is a transfer from Harvard.

Pirates Rained Out

Wilson Fans 16 Reds; Cardinals Beaten Again

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"For it's one, two, three strikes you're out . . . ," hums Don Wilson with his fast ball, and he has the Cincinnati Reds swinging right along.

But you can bet the tune is not a hit with the Reds.

Wilson played it for them almost two months ago—July 14—and 18 Reds went down swinging, giving Wilson a share of the major league record.

Wilson had the Reds dancing to his tune again Tuesday night as the Houston right-hander struck out 16 en route to a 3-2 victory in the opener of a twi-night doubleheader.

But with Wilson silent in the dugout during the nightcap, the Reds made a little noise with their bats for a 4-3 triumph and a split.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who have plenty of reason to sing, hit another flat note in their march to the National League pennant as the Los Angeles Dodgers beat them 3-0 for the second night in a row.

Second-place San Francisco, still nursing mini-hopes of pulling a major miracle, trimmed the Cardinals' lead to 10½ games by beating Atlanta 4-2.

The Chicago Cubs, behind Billy Williams' three home runs, blasted the New York Mets 8-1 in an afternoon contest, and Philadelphia was rained out at Pittsburgh in the other scheduled contest.

Wilson had not faced the Reds since he equalled the nine-inning strike out mark set by Bob Feller and tied twice by Sandy Koufax.

He had a little trouble getting in tune, giving up John Bench's 15th homer in the second, and after Jose Herrera's two-run double in the fifth put him ahead 3-1, he gave up another run,, and had only seven strike outs in six innings. He also needed a strong throw from left fielder Bob Aspromonte in the sixth to catch Vada Binson at the plate.

Then he started coming in loud and clear. He fanned two in the seventh and struck out the side in the eighth and ninth to complete a six-hitter for his 13th victory against 14 losses.

The Astros relied more on their bats in the second game as Jim Wynn, Doug Rader and Norm Miller slammed solo homers, but it wasn't enough in a game delayed 47 minutes by rain. Alex Johnson won it for the Reds with a tie - breaking bases loaded, two-out single in the ninth after two walks and a hit batter by Steve Shea.

The Dodgers handed the Cardinals their sixth loss in seven games and kept the pennant clinching number at six—any combination of St. Louis victories or San Francisco losses totaling six would give the Cardinals the flag.

Bill Singer scattered nine hits and ignited a two-run burst in the third inning off Steve Carlton, 12-11, with a single to raise his record to 11-15.

San Francisco, still playing far in the background, beat the Braves on Willie McCovey's 33-rd homer with two on in the third inning, against Al Santorini, making his first major league start.

Williams had the Mets holding their ears as he blasted homers in the first, sixth and seventh innings, giving him 29 this season. His six runs batted in also gave him the league lead. Teammate Ernie Banks added his 31st homer as Bill Hands, 16-9, coasted with an eight-hitter.

Twelve players on the Ohio State football team come from out of state, five from New Jersey and four from Pennsylvania.

Groza, Taylor, McDonald End NFL Careers

By HERSCHL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Professional football sang a sad September Song Tuesday for three of its all-time greats—Lou Groza, Jimmy Taylor and Tommy McDonald.

All three reached the end of the line as active players, leaving behind scores of (1) memories and (2) lines of type in the record books.

Groza, the 44-year-old pot-bellied placekicker who holds the pro football scoring record and was an outstanding tackle in his younger days, was removed from the Cleveland Browns' roster and hired as a coach.

Taylor, the smashing fullback whose decade of power running made him a legend with the mighty Green Bay Packers, retired after one season with the expansion New Orleans club and took a public relations job with the Saints.

The Atlanta Falcons released McDonald, the acrobatic 34-year-old flanker who caught 488 passes in an 11-year career, fourth best in National Football League history.

"I had said that I didn't want to be the one who would have to say this is the end of the line for Lou Groza," said Blanton Collier, Cleveland coach. "He still thinks that he can kick the football, and I do, too, but we have a fine young kicker in Don Cockroft and we want to examine his potential further. We felt that we could not put Cockroft on waivers and expect to keep him."

Groza was one of the players when the Browns were organized in 1946 as a member of the All-America Conference. He holds the NFL scoring record with 1,273 points and his career total is a whopping 1,532, including those in the AAC.

"Taylor's contributions to the first-year Saints will never be forgotten," said John W. Mecom Jr., owner of the team, who signed the bruising fullback after he played out his option with Green Bay.

"His magnificent efforts with a young, untested team of veterans and rookies were matched only by the leadership and balance he gave the Saints when it was needed the most."

Taylor, who will be 33 later this month, led the Saints in rushing last season with 390, a far cry from the 1960-64 glory years when he became the only man ever to put together five straight 1,000 yards-plus rushing campaigns.

Taylor scored 19 touchdowns in 1962, more than any other back ever scored from scrimmage. In title games no man has gained as many yards rushing or as much rushing-pass catching yardage combined as Taylor.

McDonald played with Philadelphia, Dallas and Los Angeles before joining the expansion Falcons last fall. His 488 career receptions, good for 8,297 yards, put him in a fourth-place tie with the legendary Don Hutson.

While the three greats were coming to the end of the line, the New York Giants were going the opposite way. They received word from placekicker Pete Gogolak, who is in the Army, that he would return from Germany today and be available when the season opens Sunday. Gogolak played last year on a series of weekend passes. He is scheduled to be discharged in January.

Pitt has compiled one of the longest winning streaks in college football history. The Panthers went unbeaten from midway through the 1914 until midway through the 1919 season, winning 32 games in a row, including 24 by shutouts.

Pirates Rained Out

Wilson Fans 16 Reds; Cardinals Beaten Again

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"For it's one, two, three strikes you're out . . . ," hums Don Wilson with his fast ball, and he has the Cincinnati Reds swinging right along.

But you can bet the tune is not a hit with the Reds.

Wilson played it for them almost two months ago—July 14—and 18 Reds went down swinging, giving Wilson a share of the major league record.

Wilson had the Reds dancing to his tune again Tuesday night as the Houston right-hander struck out 16 en route to a 3-2 victory in the opener of a twi-night doubleheader.

But with Wilson silent in the dugout during the nightcap, the Reds made a little noise with their bats for a 4-3 triumph and a split.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who have plenty of reason to sing, hit another flat note in their march to the National League pennant as the Los Angeles Dodgers beat them 3-0 for the second night in a row.

Second-place San Francisco, still nursing mini-hopes of pulling a major miracle, trimmed the Cardinals' lead to 10½ games by beating Atlanta 4-2.

The Chicago Cubs, behind Billy Williams' three home runs, blasted the New York Mets 8-1 in an afternoon contest, and Philadelphia was rained out at Pittsburgh in the other scheduled contest.

Wilson had not faced the Reds since he equalled the nine-inning strike out mark set by Bob Feller and tied twice by Sandy Koufax.

He had a little trouble getting in tune, giving up John Bench's 15th homer in the second, and after Jose Herrera's two-run double in the fifth put him ahead 3-1, he gave up another run,, and had only seven strike outs in six innings. He also needed a strong throw from left fielder Bob Aspromonte in the sixth to catch Vada Binson at the plate.

Then he started coming in loud and clear. He fanned two in the seventh and struck out the side in the eighth and ninth to complete a six-hitter for his 13th victory against 14 losses.

The Astros relied more on their bats in the second game as Jim Wynn, Doug Rader and Norm Miller slammed solo homers, but it wasn't enough in a game delayed 47 minutes by rain. Alex Johnson won it for the Reds with a tie - breaking bases loaded, two-out single in the ninth after two walks and a hit batter by Steve Shea.

The Dodgers handed the Cardinals their sixth loss in seven games and kept the pennant clinching number at six—any combination of St. Louis victories or San Francisco losses totaling six would give the Cardinals the flag.

Bill Singer scattered nine hits and ignited a two-run burst in the third inning off Steve Carlton, 12-11, with a single to raise his record to 11-15.

San Francisco, still playing far in the background, beat the Braves on Willie McCovey's 33rd homer with two on in the third inning, against Al Santorini, making his first major league start.

Williams had the Mets holding their ears as he blasted homers in the first, sixth and seventh innings, giving him 29 this season. His six runs batted in also gave him the league lead. Teammate Ernie Banks added his 31st homer as Bill Hands, 16-9, coasted with an eight-hitter.

Twelve players on the Ohio State football team come from out of state, five from New Jersey and four from Pennsylvania.

Hines Edges Greene In 100

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) — The United States, says Jim Hines, will be 1-2-3 in the 100-meter dash at the Olympics next month in Mexico City.

The United States, says Dave Maggard, will be 1-2-3 in the shot put.

Hines, on his 22nd birthday, was buoyed by his victory Tuesday over Charlie Greene in the 100-meter dash at the Olympic track and field trials at the Echo Summit track near here.

He won in 10.0, tying the existing world record, but one-tenth off the mark he shares with Green and Ronnie Ray Smith.

Maggard was optimistic because of his 67-4¼ shot put, enough to give him second place to George Woods, 68¼ and to beat world record holder Randy Matson, who was third with a put of 67-1¼.

Hines, Greene and Army Capt. Mel Pender will make up the U.S. 100-meter Olympic squad, with Smith, who finished just behind Pender, on the team as an alternate and 400-meter relay runner.

Hines said he felt that the trio would sweep the medals in Mexico City and reserved the gold one for himself. The continuing battle between himself and Greene for the title of world's fastest human has yet to be totally resolved, but Hines has now won six of their 11 meetings.

In other activity Tuesday, Geoff Vanderstock of Southern California led the way into today's 400-meter intermediate hurdles finals, by winning his semifinal heat in 49.2, just one-tenth off the world record. Tom Wyatt of Portland, Ore., won the other semi in 49.3.

Al Oerter topped the discus qualifiers with a toss of 201-6 and seven pole vaulters cleared the qualifying height of 16-0.

Tom Farrell and Wade Bell won semifinals heats at 800 meters in 1:49.6 and 1:48.0 respectively, but they will have to fight off Jim Ryun, third in his heat, in the finals today.

George Young led the 3,000-meter steeplechase qualifiers at 9:11.0.

Lutz, Smith Win Doubles In Tennis

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Arthur Ashe finally lost a tennis match Tuesday but the United States' Davis Cup hopes got a boost anyway.

The slender Negro, winner of the first U.S. Open singles championship Monday, went down to defeat in the doubles final after a marathon semifinal match that took three days to complete.

Ashe and Spanish pro Andres Gimeno succumbed 11-9, 6-1, 7-5 to Stan Smith and Bob Lutz, a pair of 21-year-olds from the University of Southern California who figure to be the U.S. doubles team in Davis Cup play.

The Americans play the winner of a series involving India, Japan and West Germany for the right to opose Australia in the Challenge Round. The dates are Nov. 8-10 with the site to be determined.

Ashe and Gimeno defeated Clark Graebner of New York and Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico Tuesday in a semifinal match that began Sunday and was halted by darkness Sunday and Monday. The scores were 6-4, 3-6, 4-6, 20-18, 15-13. Then they bowed to Smith and Lutz.

Ashe completed the doubles on legs made rubbery by 162 games of tennis in 24 hours. He beat Tom Okker of The Netherlands in five sets Monday for the singles crown.

Beaver Creek Lady Golfers Hold Banquet

Barbara Tomlison, with a 38.04 average, took the award for low gross for the season for the Beaver Creek Par 3 Ladies Golf League at the league's annual banquet Saturday night at the Holiday Inn by Waterford Park.

June McVay, with a 30.65 average, was low net for the season and Gladys Moore, with a 38-18-20, had the low net single game.

Mrs. McVay was a flight champ, followed by Mary Jane Stoffel. B Flight champ was Phyllis Stewart, followed by Evelyn Smith. C flight champ was Mrs. Moore, followed by Janet Beal.

The winning team of Madelyn D'Angelo, Mary Gail Marquette, Millie Guisler and Mrs. Moore got trophies.

Winners of door prizes were Joan Soldano, Lois Moore, Glenda Simms and Mable Abdalla.

Manning's Pro Career Elusive

DETROIT (AP) — Maybe one of these days Ted Manning will be a professional basketball player, but in the meantime it seems as if all odds are against him.

The 6-foot-5 guard was drafted by the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association in 1966 from North Carolina College. A week before he was to report to the Pistons he was drafted again — by the U. S. Army.

After his two years of military duty, Manning notified the Pistons he was ready for another try. That was two weeks ago.

Tuesday he walked into the office of Pistons' General Manager Ed Coil—with his right hand in a cast. Manning said he broke a finger recently in a pickup basketball game.

The cast will be on three to four weeks. Coach Donnis Butcher said hopefully Manning can return to the team for the last week of the training season.

Club Had 147 Injuries

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) —Albuquerque Tribune Sports Editor Carlos Salazar, who has held the post for more than 20 years, says Albuquerque's 1964 professional baseball team received more than its share of injuries.

Salazar said the team that year suffered 147 injuries, a club record.

Woody Hayes, who has been coaching at Ohio St. since 1951, has had only two losing seasons in that period.

BL Names Gridders Of Week

After viewing the films of the Columbiana game, the Beaver Local coaching staff has made awards to outstanding players.

End Rick Palmer was named offensive lineman of the week, for his downfield blocking.

Jim Bowersock was named offensive back of the week for his running and second effort.

Fred Brown, outside linebacker, was named defensive lineman of the week. He made nearly every tackle on plays coming around his end.

Roving linebacker Lew Brown was named defensive lineman of the week for making numerous tackles.

Columbus Wins Opener In Playoffs

By The Associated Press

Columbus lost 13 of 21 regular season International League games to the Rochester Red Wings, but the Jets have taken a 1-0 lead in their best-of-five semifinal playoff series.

While the Jets were bombing the Red Wings 8 - 3 Tuesday night, the Jacksonville Mets were upending the pennant-winning Toledo Mud Hens 5-4 for a 1-0 lead in their semifinal playoff.

Dave Roberts, the league's winningest pitcher with an 18-5 record, checked Rochester on eight hits and shut the Red Wings out for six innings. Catcher Manny Sanguillen drove in five runs with a homer and two singles.

Jacksonville got just two earned runs off Toledo pitcher Mike Marshall but beat the Hens with two runs in the ninth on Bob Heise's run-scoring double and a throwing error by Toledo catcher Arlo Brunsberg, who tried to head off Heise going to third after his hit.

Dave Campbell drove in three Toledo runs with a double and a homer.

Laver Downs Newcombe For U.S. Pro Tennis Title

By LARRY ELDRIDGE
Associated Press Sports Writer

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Rod Laver has his fourth U.S. Pro Tennis Championship in five years, and fellow Australian John Newcombe thinks he should get some sort of mental telepathy title, too.

"I was beginning to believe he was reading my mind," Newcombe said after bowing to the perennial king of the pros 6-4, 6-4, 9-7 in the finals at Longwood Tuesday.

It did seem that way at times, as Laver was usually in the right spot for his patented slashing returns. The defending champion agreed his anticipation was a factor.

"I was keen and I was sharp," he said. "I was getting to the ball—and that's half the battle on grass."

Despite the straight set victory, both players agreed one key to the match lay in Laver's frequent comebacks whenever he appeared on the ropes.

The victory was a boost to the 29-year-old Laver, who has suffered a series of upset reversals recently included a loss to South Africa's Cliff Drysdale in last week's U.S. Open at Forest Hills.

Laver didn't lose a set in the long-delayed $32,000 tournament which started in June but ran into so many rain postponements that the finals had to be put off until the players could get back to this area.

Aussie Tony Roche and Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., the beaten semifinalists, were to have played for third place prior to the title match.

Ralston had to default because of an injury.

In place of the third-place match, Roche played an exhibition against Drysdale, defeating the South African 6-2, 6-0 in a best of-3 match and then winning an extra exhibition set, also 6-0.

Hines Edges Greene In 100

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) — The United States, says Jim Hines, will be 1-2-3 in the 100-meter dash at the Olympics next month in Mexico City.

The United States, says Dave Maggard, will be 1-2-3 in the shot put.

Hines, on his 22nd birthday, was buoyed by his victory Tuesday over Charlie Greene in the 100-meter dash at the Olympic track and field trials at the Echo Summit track near here.

He won in 10.0, tying the existing world record, but one-tenth off the mark he shares with Green and Ronnie Ray Smith.

Maggard was optimistic because of his 67-4¼ shot put, enough to give him second place to George Woods, 68¼ and to beat world record holder Randy Matson, who was third with a put of 67-1¼.

Hines, Greene and Army Capt. Mel Pender will make up the U.S. 100-meter Olympic squad, with Smith, who finished just behind Pender, on the team as an alternate and 400-meter relay runner.

Hines said he felt that the trio would sweep the medals in Mexico City and reserved the gold one for himself. The continuing battle between himself and Greene for the title of world's fastest human has yet to be totally resolved, but Hines has now won six of their 11 meetings.

In other activity Tuesday, Geoff Vanderstock of Southern California led the way into today's 400-meter intermediate hurdles finals, by winning his semifinal heat in 49.2, just one-tenth off the world record. Tom Wyatt of Portland, Ore., won the other semi in 49.3.

Al Oerter topped the discus qualifiers with a toss of 201-6 and seven pole vaulters cleared the qualifying height of 16-0.

Tom Farrell and Wade Bell won semifinals heats at 800 meters in 1:49.6 and 1:48.0 respectively, but they will have to fight off Jim Ryun, third in his heat, in the finals today.

George Young led the 3,000-meter steeplechase qualifiers at 9:11.0.

Lutz, Smith Win Doubles In Tennis

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Arthur Ashe finally lost a tennis match Tuesday but the United States' Davis Cup hopes got a boost anyway.

The slender Negro, winner of the first U.S. Open singles championship Monday, went down to defeat in the doubles final after a marathon semifinal match that took three days to complete.

Ashe and Spanish pro Andres Gimeno succumbed 11-9, 6-1, 7-5 to Stan Smith and Bob Lutz, a pair of 21-year-olds from the University of Southern California who figure to be the U.S. doubles team in Davis Cup play.

The Americans play the winner of a series involving India, Japan and West Germany for the right to opose Australia in the Challenge Round. The dates are Nov. 8-10 with the site to be determined.

Ashe and Gimeno defeated Clark Graebner of New York and Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico Tuesday in a semifinal match that began Sunday and was halted by darkness Sunday and Monday. The scores were 6-4, 3-6, 4-6, 20-18, 15-13. Then they bowed to Smith and Lutz.

Ashe completed the doubles on legs made rubbery by 162 games of tennis in 24 hours. He beat Tom Okker of The Netherlands in five sets Monday for the singles crown.

Manning's Pro Career Elusive

DETROIT (AP) — Maybe one of these days Ted Manning will be a professional basketball player, but in the meantime it seems as if all odds are against him.

The 6-foot-5 guard was drafted by the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association in 1966 from North Carolina College. A week before he was to report to the Pistons he was drafted again — by the U. S. Army.

After his two years of military duty, Manning notified the Pistons he was ready for another try. That was two weeks ago.

Tuesday he walked into the office of Pistons' General Manager Ed Coil—with his right hand in a cast. Manning said he broke a finger recently in a pickup basketball game.

The cast will be on three to four weeks. Coach Donnis Butcher said hopefully Manning can return to the team for the last week of the training season.

Club Had 147 Injuries

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) —Albuquerque Tribune Sports Editor Carlos Salazar, who has held the post for more than 20 years, says Albuquerque's 1964 professional baseball team received more than its share of injuries.

Salazar said the team that year suffered 147 injuries, a club record.

Woody Hayes, who has been coaching at Ohio St. since 1951, has had only two losing seasons in that period.

Columbus Wins Opener In Playoffs

By The Associated Press

Columbus lost 13 of 21 regular season International League games to the Rochester Red Wings, but the Jets have taken a 1-0 lead in their best-of-five semifinal playoff series.

While the Jets were bombing the Red Wings 8 - 3 Tuesday night, the Jacksonville Mets were upending the pennant-winning Toledo Mud Hens 5-4 for a 1-0 lead in their semifinal playoff.

Dave Roberts, the league's winningest pitcher with an 18-5 record, checked Rochester on eight hits and shut the Red Wings out for six innings. Catcher Manny Sanguillen drove in five runs with a homer and two singles.

Jacksonville got just two earned runs off Toledo pitcher Mike Marshall but beat the Hens with two runs in the ninth on Bob Heise's run-scoring double and a throwing error by Toledo catcher Arlo Brunsberg, who tried to head off Heise going to third after his hit.

Dave Campbell drove in three Toledo runs with a double and a homer.

Laver Downs Newcombe For U.S. Pro Tennis Title

By LARRY ELDRIDGE
Associated Press Sports Writer

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Rod Laver has his fourth U.S. Pro Tennis Championship in five years, and fellow Australian John Newcombe thinks he should get some sort of mental telepathy title, too.

"I was beginning to believe he was reading my mind," Newcombe said after bowing to the perennial king of the pros 6-4, 6-4, 9-7 in the finals at Longwood Tuesday.

It did seem that way at times, as Laver was usually in the right spot for his patented slashing returns. The defending champion agreed his anticipation was a factor.

"I was keen and I was sharp," he said. "I was getting to the ball—and that's half the battle on grass."

Despite the straight set victory, both players agreed one key to the match lay in Laver's frequent comebacks whenever he appeared on the ropes.

The victory was a boost to the 29-year-old Laver, who has suffered a series of upset reversals recently included a loss to South Africa's Cliff Drysdale in last week's U.S. Open at Forest Hills.

Laver didn't lose a set in the long-delayed $32,000 tournament which started in June but ran into so many rain postponements that the finals had to be put off until the players could get back to this area.

Aussie Tony Roche and Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., the beaten semifinalists, were to have played for third place prior to the title match.

Ralston had to default because of an injury.

In place of the third-place match, Roche played an exhibition against Drysdale, defeating the South African 6-2, 6-0 in a best of-3 match and then winning an extra exhibition set, also 6-0.

Navy Admits $25 Million Copter Loss

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has acknowledged the loss of about $25 million worth of unmanned helicopters once given a significant role in antisubmarine warfare.

In response to persistent inquiries, the Navy acknowledged that 233 of the small, radio controlled drone choppers, called DASH, have been lost for various electronic, mechanical and human faults over the past seven years.

The major causes for the losses, which came in fleet operations, resulted from the failure of the DASHes aviation electronics system, the Navy said.

Under consideration now to replace the drones is a new, manned lightweight helicipter.

Four years ago, the Navy issued a "fact sheet" on antisubmarine warfare in which it listed the DASH among "significant achievements" in the field.

At that time, the fact sheet described the drone helicopter as "a precise, deliberate, long range weapon delivery capability" to complement another astisub weapon, the ASROC. The ASROC is a antisubmarine missile which can be fired from Navy-surface craft and uses either an acoustic homing torpedo or depth charges.

Navy antisubmarine experts had high hopes for the DASH, which was designed to be sent out from destroyers after a "fix" was made on an enemy sub. The DASH would be ordered by radio to drop a pattern of torpedoes on the quarry.

The helicopter was built to carry 1,000 pounds of payload.

When the Navy was asked early this summer whether it was looking for a replacement for the DASH, it said no.

But now the Navy has changed its position and says a lightweight manned helicopter is being cossidered to supplant DASH.

The subject is under study and no specifications have been determined, the Navy said.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Culp Graduates To Long Hair, Beads

Bob Culp's appearance in a couple of comedy skits on Jerry Lewis' show next Tuesday is the first acting he's done since finishing up the "I Spy" series last December.

Hal Humphrey

"I've been producing my first picture, a documentary titled 'Operation Breadbasket,' and it's the first time the story of what Black Power is has really been told," says Bob.

"Black Power is something to eat. That's what it means. Rev. Jesse Jackson is head of 'Operation Breadbasket,' which is the economic arm of the late Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference," Bob explains.

-:-

HE MET the Rev. Mr. Jackson at Dr. King's funeral and was very much impressed with the man and his work, and soon afterward Bob became one of the organizers of AHAB (Artists Helping American Black Community).

"When King was killed and I first heard it, I sat there like a dummy, a 37-year-old alleged liberal. The first thing I did was call Bill Cosby to tell him I was going to the funeral. He said we'd go together."

Bob and Cosbuy (his costar in "I Spy") stopped in Memphis the day before Rev. King's funeral in Atlanta and marched with the garbage workers, an event which also had a profound effect on Bob.

-:-

"THE TWO OF US together in that parade were like a symbol to people. It was after that and the funeral that five of us met in Sammy Davis Jr.'s hotel room and formed AHAB. We hope eventually it will mobilize the entire entertainment industry behind the blacks."

It was Bob's idea to put "Operation Breadbasket" on film. He wrote it and, although he has received lots of free production help on the film (which he's been shooting in Chicago the past three months), he's already sunk $25,000 of his own money into it.

The documentary is about completed (Bob also narrates it), and he's hoping to sell it to one of the three major TV networks — despite their policy against buying news documentaries produced outside their own news departments.

-:-

"BELIEVE ME, the networks couldn't have gotten the cooperation in Chicago to do 'Operation Breadbasket' that I got. You've seen the documentaries they've done on blacks, and except for that first on CBS that Cosby narrated, they've mostly told us what we already know," says Bob.

The Bob Culp you meet today would have you believe he's become a different man in the past several months. He certainly looks different.

Instead of the dapper appearance he possessed in "I Spy," Bob now has his hair quite long, and the day we met he was wearing a double strand of colored beads, plus a London Bobby's police whistle which a friend had sent him.

"SINCE I WAS 14 I've dedicated myself to an application to my craft as an actor, so I could become better and better at it. I've done 120 plays and umpteen miles of film, but now I find that isn't enough.

"I was one of those from Hollywood who did a benefit for Eugene McCarthy at Chicago's Opera House for the delegates to the convention. This past Sunday I addressed the National Conference of Lutheran Ministers—me!"

He still has to make a living, of course, and besides his appearance with Jerry Lewis, Bob and his new wife, France Nuyen (he was divorced and married again during the three seasons of "I Spy"), are appearing on a Rowan and Martin Laugh-In show soon.

-:-

NEXT MONTH he begins a new movie ("Bob and Carroll and Ted and Alice") with Natalie Wood, then follows it with another one to be filmed by Bob Aldrich in the Philippines ("Too Late the Hero").

Bob says he was jumping for joy when "I Spy" folded after three seasons, although he felt sorry for executive producer Sheldon Leonard — for not getting the five seasons really needed to make it a financial success.

"I was tired of it, and I can't speak for Cosby, but I believe he was, too. It was still a great education for me, though. I wrote seven of the scripts and got to direct one, which was the worst of the bunch," Bob claims.

Overhead Sidewalks Set For Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — More than $1 milion in contracts for construction of the city's first overhead sidewalks were awarded Tuesday and work was expected to begin by the end of the month.

The sheltered walkways will extend from the second level of the Convention-Exposition Center on Elm Street through old Opera Place to the west side of Race Street — a three-block long area. Completion is set for next June.

Agnew Seen As Political 'Hatchet Man'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man with the political hatchet in hand in the Republican presidential campaign camp seems to be Spiro T. Agnew.

As the No. 2 man on the GOP ticket, Maryland Gov. Agnew chopped away at Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee, with the kind of spirited abandon enemies of Richard M. Nixon have attributed to him in the past.

Nixon, the top GOP candidate, obviously is trying to avoid being tagged as a bare knuckles campaigner. He speaks kindly of Humphrey, while challenging the vice president on the issues and the record of the Johnson administration.

Agnew, on the other hand, made it perfectly clear he is ready for political fisticuffs when he thinks the other side is inviting it. He characterized himself as a "counter fighter," a belligerent who awaits his opponent's blow and retaliates with one of his own.

What stirred Agnew to political anger was Humphrey's observation that the Nixon-Agnew team seemed to be going for a military, rather than a diplomatic, settlement of the Vietnam war.

To Agnew, Humphrey's assessment that Nixon was taking a hard line on Vietnam added up to "annual and unwarranted attack" on the Republican nominee—to be answered in kind despite all of the lofty promises from both sides that there would be no resort to personalities.

The Maryland governor quickly ticked off a series of indictments against Humphrey. He stumbled once by naming Nixon as the object of his attack but quickly recovered when reporters began laughing.

Agnew said Humphrey had turned "squishy soft" in an effort to recapture Democratic dissidents who opposed his nomination and who want to "disengage in Vietnam at any cost."

Indirectly, he hung an appeaser label on the vice president for a suggestion that some withdrawals of U.S. troops could begin late this year or early in 1969.

Applying a little poetic license to politics, he said Humphrey was casting himself in the role of Neville Chamberlain at Munich and Nixon was standing firmly with Winston Churchill.

From what he described as a position smacking of "peace at any price," he said Humphrey was "trying to move back into an equivocal stance" on the war.

He said Humphrey was "attempting to lift the American people up to the prospect of peace when there is no evidence that peace is in sight."

Asked if he wasn't being a bit rough in the clinches, Agnew replied: "When my team is kicked in the groin, I don't stand by and take it."

Sensitivity to pain or physical discomfort diminishes appreciably as a person grows older, according to scientific observation.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Culp Graduates To Long Hair, Beads

Bob Culp's appearance in a couple of comedy skits on Jerry Lewis' show next Tuesday is the first acting he's done since finishing up the "I Spy" series last December.

Hal Humphrey

"I've been producing my first picture, a documentary titled 'Operation Breadbasket,' and it's the first time the story of what Black Power is has really been told," says Bob.

"Black Power is something to eat. That's what it means. Rev. Jesse Jackson is head of 'Operation Breadbasket,' which is the economic arm of the late Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference," Bob explains.

-:-

HE MET the Rev. Mr. Jackson at Dr. King's funeral and was very much impressed with the man and his work, and soon afterward Bob became one of the organizers of AHAB (Artists Helping American Black Community).

"When King was killed and I first heard it, I sat there like a dummy, a 37-year-old alleged liberal. The first thing I did was call Bill Cosby to tell him I was going to the funeral. He said we'd go together."

Bob and Cosbuy (his costar in "I Spy") stopped in Memphis the day before Rev. King's funeral in Atlanta and marched with the garbage workers, an event which also had a profound effect on Bob.

-:-

"THE TWO OF US together in that parade were like a symbol to people. It was after that and the funeral that five of us met in Sammy Davis Jr.'s hotel room and formed AHAB. We hope eventually it will mobilize the entire entertainment industry behind the blacks."

It was Bob's idea to put "Operation Breadbasket" on film. He wrote it and, although he has received lots of free production help on the film (which he's been shooting in Chicago the past three months), he's already sunk $25,000 of his own money into it.

The documentary is about completed (Bob also narrates it), and he's hoping to sell it to one of the three major TV networks — despite their policy against buying news documentaries produced outside their own news departments.

-:-

"BELIEVE ME, the networks couldn't have gotten the cooperation in Chicago to do 'Operation Breadbasket' that I got. You've seen the documentaries they've done on blacks, and except for that first on CBS that Cosby narrated, they've mostly told us what we already know," says Bob.

The Bob Culp you meet today would have you believe he's become a different man in the past several months. He certainly looks different.

Instead of the dapper appearance he possessed in "I Spy," Bob now has his hair quite long, and the day we met he was wearing a double strand of colored beads, plus a London Bobby's police whistle which a friend had sent him.

"SINCE I WAS 14 I've dedicated myself to an application to my craft as an actor, so I could become better and better at it. I've done 120 plays and umpteen miles of film, but now I find that isn't enough.

"I was one of those from Hollywood who did a benefit for Eugene McCarthy at Chicago's Opera House for the delegates to the convention. This past Sunday I addressed the National Conference of Lutheran Ministers—me!"

He still has to make a living, of course, and besides his appearance with Jerry Lewis, Bob and his new wife, France Nuyen (he was divorced and married again during the three seasons of "I Spy"), are appearing on a Rowan and Martin Laugh-In show soon.

-:-

NEXT MONTH he begins a new movie ("Bob and Carroll and Ted and Alice") with Natalie Wood, then follows it with another one to be filmed by Bob Aldrich in the Philippines ("Too Late the Hero").

Bob says he was jumping for joy when "I Spy" folded after three seasons, although he felt sorry for executive producer Sheldon Leonard — for not getting the five seasons really needed to make it a financial success.

"I was tired of it, and I can't speak for Cosby, but I believe he was, too. It was still a great education for me, though. I wrote seven of the scripts and got to direct one, which was the worst of the bunch," Bob claims.

Overhead Sidewalks Set For Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — More than $1 milion in contracts for construction of the city's first overhead sidewalks were awarded Tuesday and work was expected to begin by the end of the month.

The sheltered walkways will extend from the second level of the Convention-Exposition Center on Elm Street through old Opera Place to the west side of Race Street — a three-block long area. Completion is set for next June.

Agnew Seen As Political 'Hatchet Man'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man with the political hatchet in hand in the Republican presidential campaign camp seems to be Spiro T. Agnew.

As the No. 2 man on the GOP ticket, Maryland Gov. Agnew chopped away at Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee, with the kind of spirited abandon enemies of Richard M. Nixon have attributed to him in the past.

Nixon, the top GOP candidate, obviously is trying to avoid being tagged as a bare knuckles campaigner. He speaks kindly of Humphrey, while challenging the vice president on the issues and the record of the Johnson administration.

Agnew, on the other hand, made it perfectly clear he is ready for political fisticuffs when he thinks the other side is inviting it. He characterized himself as a "counter fighter," a belligerent who awaits his opponent's blow and retaliates with one of his own.

What stirred Agnew to political anger was Humphrey's observation that the Nixon-Agnew team seemed to be going for a military, rather than a diplomatic, settlement of the Vietnam war.

To Agnew, Humphrey's assessment that Nixon was taking a hard line on Vietnam added up to "annual and unwarranted attack" on the Republican nominee—to be answered in kind despite all of the lofty promises from both sides that there would be no resort to personalities.

The Maryland governor quickly ticked off a series of indictments against Humphrey. He stumbled once by naming Nixon as the object of his attack but quickly recovered when reporters began laughing.

Agnew said Humphrey had turned "squishy soft" in an effort to recapture Democratic dissidents who opposed his nomination and who want to "disengage in Vietnam at any cost."

Indirectly, he hung an appeaser label on the vice president for a suggestion that some withdrawals of U.S. troops could begin late this year or early in 1969.

Applying a little poetic license to politics, he said Humphrey was casting himself in the role of Neville Chamberlain at Munich and Nixon was standing firmly with Winston Churchill.

From what he described as a position smacking of "peace at any price," he said Humphrey was "trying to move back into an equivocal stance" on the war.

He said Humphrey was "attempting to lift the American people up to the prospect of peace when there is no evidence that peace is in sight."

Asked if he wasn't being a bit rough in the clinches, Agnew replied: "When my team is kicked in the groin, I don't stand by and take it."

Sensitivity to pain or physical discomfort diminishes appreciably as a person grows older, according to scientific observation.

ANN LANDERS

Dog Fight Not Worth It

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My husband promised to sell Duke, our pedigreed collie, to his brother George for $100 when he moved to an apartment. We moved last week and took Duke to his new home.

Two days later Duke died. George insists the dog was sick when we brought him and he refuses to pay the $100. I called George a cheap jerk and a few other names which he richly deserved.

My husband is mad at me. He says maybe the dog was sick and that he's going to forget about the $100. I say his brother is a crook and we should keep on his back until he pays. What do you suggest?—EDNA

-:-

Dear Edna: A muzzle — for you. If your husband wants to forget about the money, let him. Perhaps the dog was sick when you sold him to George. A brother fight can be worse than a dog fight.

Dream World

Dear Ann: When I was 13 I saw John Forsythe in a movie. When he kissed the girl I got so excited I nearly fainted. 'I'm now 20 and have gone beyond kissing, to put it bluntly, yet no one has been able to thrill me the way John Forsythe did when he kissed that girl. Am I nuts? — SORRY ABOUT THAT.

-:-

Dear Sorry: You aren't nuts, you just have a strong imagination and enjoy your fantasies more than real live fellas. Try transferring some of that excitement to the one you're with, since your chnces of getting John are rather slim.

Food Overdose

Dear Ann: You've said repeatedly that overeating may be compensation for the lack of love. Could it not also be a sign of too much love?

How many women try to please their husbands by setting a table loaded with starches, fats, too much seasoning and too many calories? How many mothers stuff their children — "Eat, it's good for you." How many "unclaimed jewels" try to impress eligible men by whipping up rich and tantalizing dishes? How many widowed women spend their days cooking and baking for bachelor sons?

"It's pathetic that so many women try to win love by shoveling in the food. It would be an act of kindness if they served small portions of nourishing food and helped their loved ones to stay slim and healthy. Tell them, please, that a 2-mile walk will do more for a person than a chocolate souffle with whipped cream. — MRS 24-INCH WAIST.

Dear Mrs: You're so right, but the souffle is so much more appealing than the walk. The flesh is weak, which is why too many people have too much of it.

-:-

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

To Be Honored In Cleveland

Four Doctors Will Share $50,000 Stouffer Prize

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The 1968 Stouffer Prize of $50,000 will be shared by four doctors for their work in angiotensin, a natural substance in a person's blood estimated to be so powerful that seven ounces of it would raise the blood pressure of every person in the United States.

The Vernon Stouffer Foundation in Cleveland today announced these winners:

—Dr. F. Merlin Bumpus, 45, chairman and director, research division, Cleveland Clinic Foundation.

—Dr. Leonard T. Skeggs Jr., 50, chief of the biochemistry section and co-director, Hypertension Research Laboratory, Cleveland Veterans Administration Hospital.

—Dr. Robert Schwyzer, 47, professor and head of the new department of molecular biology, Swiss Federal Institute of Technology, Zurich, Switzerland.

—Dr. William Stanley Peart, 46, professor of medicine, St. Mary's Hospital, London, England.

The four will be honored at an awards dinner in Cleveland Oct. 11 held in conjunction with sessions of the Council for High Blood Pressure Research of the American Heart Association.

The Stouffer Foundation said the four doctors investigated angiotensin because it is "hot suspect as a cause of high blood pressure."

"They wanted to learn in minute detail how this fantastic blood pressure raising stuff was made, what it was made of and how it worked," the foundation said. "If they had such information they might then logically develop ways to alter or block angiotensin's action."

Because of the doctor's work, the foundation said, "more is known about angiotensin than any other substance in the body's blood pressure control system."

The annual award is given for distinguished work toward the conquest of high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

A Hard Water Problem

DEAR HELOISE: If you happen to live in what we call a hard-water area or have well water which spots every dish you wash, how do you keep the spots off of the water glasses, the stainless steel and stuff?

Heloise

Please . . we in this area are desperate.

HELOISE CLAN.

-:-

Honey-pie, we happen to be campers ourselves. There is one place that we've been camping in for over a year now. Water out there is loaded with minerals, too. The only solution I've found is to use a water softener or conditioner. Or, instead of washing all of the dishes at once, wash only three or four at a time.

Then STOP and dry 'em!

I have also learned to use paper towels for this instead of dish towels. The reason being . . . I can throw that wet paper towel over a towel bar and it will dry out and I can re-use it again. If not for that then somethin' else.

Also when I wipe something such as a pan or glass with a terry cloth towel, it ACCUMULATES the mineral deposits!!

I have also learned that if you get your water from a well that you can pour it through a thick bath towel or two and it strains lots of those minerals out. Helps oodles!

The best thing you can do is heat some water and immediately rinse the FEW dishes you have washed, and dry them P.D.Q. Thus, no more of those mineral water marks.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Having broken a bone in the little finger on my right hand and it being in a very fancy splint, I was wondering how I was going to take my shower without getting the splint wet.

I suddenly thought of plastic sandwich bags.

I put one on my finger, securing it with a rubber band, and it works perfectly. I didn't make it too tight and it didn't cut off the blood circulation.

I also found that I can brush my teeth by putting my hands in one of these bags and not get my splint wet.

DOROTHY DOUBLAS.

DEAR HELOISE: Since an infant eats only small portions of solids, a convenient method is to put them in the smallest baby food jar for heating and feeding.

This eliminates heating the entire jar and also seems to act as an incentive for the baby to eat when it is shown in the jar. Possibly through the association of glass with a baby bottle?

GERRI LYONS.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who have difficulty sleeping on brush hair rollers, I have finally found a solution to the problem.

I ran across my old foam rubber "doughnut" — the type used for people who are ill to lie or sit on. I put a pillowslip on it, placed it on top of my pillow at night and find that the rollers fit nicely into the hole.

Now, I don't have to get up at 5:30 a.m. to put up my hair and dry it before work.

MRS. L. HINCKLEY

DEAR HELOISE: When cleaning fish, I use an old toothbrush to clean along the back bone! It does a dandy job and the fish look so much more appetizing

Thanks loads for all your keen ideas.

MFG.

-:-

And thanks two bushel basketsful for yours! Now, if I could just catch some fish! I haven't had too many bites lately, have you?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: A hint to busy mothers of tiny tots who still need mom's company in the bathroom.

I have four children and found it got pretty silly to waste that five or 10 minutes waiting impatiently.

Now I give myself a refreshing break at this time by recombing my hair, touching up my make-up, or just washing my face or brushing my teeth.

Any mother with little ones hardly ever finds time for these personal things in her busy day and now it keeps both tot and me occupied at this time. Baby usually watches. Quite fascinated, too.

BUSY.

Plant Used For Rope Turns Out To Be Dope

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Two years ago Michael Dumbroski decided to plant some Indian hemp on his farm in nearby Copley Township.

The plants flourished and Dumbroski used them to make rope.

But Tuesday Summit County sheriff's deputies dug up the plants and burned them saying they could have produced at least $30,000 in marijuana.

County Prosecutor James Barbuto said no charges would be filed against Dumbroski.

Legislation To Assure Job Training Slated

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Legislation is being prepared that would guarantee job training to every Ohioan, Gov. James A. Rhodes said Tuesday.

Rhodes, speaking at Xenia High School, said the first target in the program will be the 90,000 young people a year who will either drop out of high school or will be graduated without a job skill.

My husband is mad at me. He says maybe the dog was sick and that he's going to forget about the $100. I say his brother is a crook and we should keep on his back until he pays. What do you suggest?—EDNA

-:-

Dear Edna: A muzzle — for you. If your husband wants to forget about the money, let him. Perhaps the dog was sick when you sold him to George. A brother fight can be worse than a dog fight.

Dream World

Dear Ann: When I was 13 I saw John Forsythe in a movie. When he kissed the girl I got so excited I nearly fainted. 'I'm now 20 and have gone beyond kissing, to put it bluntly, yet no one has been able to thrill me the way John Forsythe did when he kissed that girl. Am I nuts? — SORRY ABOUT THAT.

-:-

Dear Sorry: You aren't nuts, you just have a strong imagination and enjoy your fantasies more than real live fellas. Try transferring some of that excitement to the one you're with, since your chnces of getting John are rather slim.

Food Overdose

Dear Ann: You've said repeatedly that overeating may be compensation for the lack of love. Could it not also be a sign of too much love?

How masy women try to please their husbands by setting a table loaded with starches, fats, too much seasoning and too many calories? How many mothers stuff their children — "Eat, it's good for you." How many "unclaimed jewels" try to impress eligible men by whipping up rich and tantalizing dishes? How many widowed women spend their days cooking and baking for bachelor sons?

"It's pathetic that so many women try to win love by shoveling in the food. It would be an act of kindness if they served small portions of nourishing food and helped their loved ones to stay slim and healthy. Tell them, please, that a 2-mile walk will do more for a person than a chocolate souffle with whipped cream. — MRS 24 INCH WAIST.

Dear Mrs: You're so right, but the souffle is so much more appealing than the walk. The flesh is weak, which is why too many people have too much of it.

-:-

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

A Hard Water Problem

DEAR HELOISE: If you happen to live in what we call a hard-water area or have well water which spots every dish you wash, how do you keep the spots off of the water glasses, the stainless steel and stuff?

Heloise

Please . . we in this area are desperate.

HELOISE CLAN.

-:-

Honey-pie, we happen to be campers ourselves. There is one place that we've been camping in for over a year now. Water out there is loaded with minerals, too. The only solution I've found is to use a water softener or conditioner. Or, instead of washing all of the dishes at once, wash only three or four at a time.

Then STOP and dry 'em!

I have also learned to use paper towels for this instead of dish towels. The reason being . . . I can throw that wet paper towel over a towel bar and it will dry out and I can re-use it again. If not for that then somethin' else.

Also when I wipe something such as a pan or glass with a terry cloth towel, it ACCUMULATES the mineral deposits!!

I have also learned that if you get your water from a well that you can pour it through a thick bath towel or two and it strains lots of those minerals out. Helps oodles!

The best thing you can do is heat some water and immediately rinse the FEW dishes you have washed, and dry them P D Q. Thus, no more of those mineral water marks.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Having broken a bone in the little finger on my right hand and it being in a very fancy splint, I was wondering how I was going to take my shower without getting the splint wet.

I suddenly thought of plastic sandwich bags.

I put one on my finger, securing it with a rubber band, and it works perfectly. I didn't make it too tight and it didn't cut off the blood circulation.

I also found that I can brush my teeth by putting my hands in one of these bags and not get my splint wet.

DOROTHY DOUBLAS.

DEAR HELOISE: Since an infant eats only small portions of solids, a convenient method is to put them in the smallest baby food jar for heating and feeding.

This eliminates heating the entire jar and also seems to act as an incentive for the baby to eat when it is shown in the jar. Possibly through the association of glass with a baby bottle?

GERRI LYONS.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who have difficulty sleeping on brush hair rollers, I have finally found a solution to the problem.

I ran across my old foam rubber "doughnut" — the type used for people who are ill to lie or sit on. I put a pillowslip on it, placed it on top of my pillow at night and find that the rollers fit nicely into the hole.

Now, I don't have to get up at 5:30 a.m. to put up my hair and dry it before work.

MRS. L. HINCKLEY

DEAR HELOISE: When cleaning fish, I use an old toothbrush to clean along the back bone! It does a dandy job and the fish look so much more appetizing.

Thanks loads for all your keen ideas.

MFG.

-:-

And thanks two bushel basketsful for yours! Now, if I could just catch some fish! I haven't had too many bites lately, have you?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: A hint to busy mothers of tiny tots who still need mom's company in the bathroom.

I have four children and found it got pretty silly to waste that five or 10 minutes waiting impatiently.

Now I give myself a refreshing break at this time by recombing my hair, touching up my make-up, or just washing my face or brushing my teeth.

Any mother with little ones hardly ever finds time for these personal things in her busy day and now it keeps both tot and me occupied at this time. Baby usually watches. Quite fascinated, too.

BUSY.

Plant Used For Rope Turns Out To Be Dope

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Two years ago Michael Dumbroski decided to plant some Indian hemp on his farm in nearby Copley Township.

The plants flourished and Dumbroski used them to make rope.

But Tuesday Summit County sheriff's deputies dug up the plants and burned them saying they could have produced at least $30,000 in marijuana.

County Prosecutor James Barbuto said no charges would be filed against Dumbroski.

Legislation To Assure Job Training Slated

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Legislation is being prepared that would guarantee job training to every Ohioan, Gov. James A. Rhodes said Tuesday.

Rhodes, speaking at Xenia High School, said the first target in the program will be the 90,000 young people a year who will either drop out of high school or will be graduated without a job skill.

To Be Honored In Cleveland

Four Doctors Will Share $50,000 Stouffer Prize

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The 1968 Stouffer Prize of $50,000 will be shared by four doctors for their work in angiotensin, a natural substance in a person's blood estimated to be so powerful that seven ounces of it would raise the blood pressure of every person in the United States.

The Vernon Stouffer Foundation in Cleveland today announced these winners:

—Dr. F. Merlin Bumpus, 45, chairman and director, research division, Cleveland Clinic Foundation.

—Dr. Leonard T. Skeggs Jr., 50, chief of the biochemistry section and co-director, Hypertension Research Laboratory, Cleveland Veterans Administration Hospital.

—Dr. Robert Schwyzer, 47, professor and head of the new department of molecular biology, Swiss Federal Institute of Technology, Zurich, Switzerland.

—Dr. William Stanley Peart, 46, professor of medicine, St. Mary's Hospital, London, England.

The four will be honored at an awards dinner in Cleveland Oct. 11 held in conjunction with sessions of the Council for High Blood Pressure Research of the American Heart Association.

The Stouffer Foundation said the four doctors investigated angiotensin because it is "hot suspect as a cause of high blood pressure."

"They wanted to learn in minute detail how this fantastic blood pressure raising stuff was made, what it was made of and how it worked," the foundation said. "If they had such information they might then logically develop ways to alter or block angiotensin's action."

Because of the doctor's work, the foundation said, "more is known about angiotensin than any other substance in the body's blood pressure control system."

The annual award is given for distinguished work toward the conquest of high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries.

Wellsville Group Holds Program

Mrs. Bertha Reed presided. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Helen Geer in the absence of Mrs. Rebecca Kinzel.

Mrs. Cora Bowman was enrolled as a member. Mrs. Mabel Smith won the corsage.

Nineteen were present, with lunch served by Mrs. Geer and Mrs. Anna Dickey.

3 Mahoning Men Are Indicted On Narcotics Counts

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Three men described as possible connections to a nationwide drug operation were indicted Tuesday on various drug charges by Mahoning County grand jurors.

They were George Keefer, 40, of nearby Austintown; Robert Hoechstetter, 2, and Daryl Grady, both of Youngstown.

Keefer was indicted for possession of narcotics and sale of hallucenogenic drugs. He has been free on $5,000 bond since his arrest last January.

Hoechstetter was indicted for possession of narcotics with intent to sell and illegal sale of narcotics. He was arrested in July and has been free on $7,500 bond.

Grady was indicted on two counts of illegal sales. Authorities said they had been unable to trace Grady's whereabouts.

County Prosecutor Frank Ancalotti Jr. said the three men were possible connections to a nationwide drug operation involving hallucenogenic drugs.

3 Mahoning Men Are Indicted On Narcotics Counts

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Three men described as possible connections to a nationwide drug operation were indicted Tuesday on various drug charges by Mahoning County grand jurors.

They were George Keefer, 40, of nearby Austintown; Robert Hoechstetter, 2, and Daryl Grady, both of Youngstown.

Keefer was indicted for possession of narcotics and sale of hallucenogenic drugs. He has been free on $5,000 bond since his arrest last January.

Hoechstetter was indicted for possession of narcotics with intent to sell and illegal sale of narcotics. He was arrested in July and has been free on $7,500 bond.

Grady was indicted on two counts of illegal sales. Authorities said they had been unable to trace Grady's whereabouts.

County Prosecutor Frank Ancalotti Jr. said the three men were possible connections to a nationwide drug operation involving hallucenogenic drugs.

Junior Editors Quiz on TREES

QUESTION: Why don't tree limbs grow up horizontally like the trunk?

* * * *

ANSWER: Our young artist in the picture has painted a tree with all the limbs growing up right alongside the trunk. It's a dead-looking tree. Actually, such a tree WOULD be dead, because the branches could not hold the leaves out into the light. The leaves then would not be able to make the plant food needed by the tree, for light acts as power in the food making process. There is one kind of tree, the Lombardy poplar, shown in the background of the first picture, which does have limbs going upward. But these are sufficiently far from the trunk for the leaves to grow and for sunlight to penetrate. Most trees radiate their branches out as shown in the second picture, getting the leaves as far into the sunlight as possible. Walk into the woods and study the situation. You will see that there is not enough room for the branches to radiate out widely, so the trees tend to grow very tall, reaching the clear light with their topmost branches.
